Indian Official Says Problem To Go Before U.N.

NEW DELHI (AP) — A highly-placed official predicted today that the whole Indian problem would be dumped into the laps of the United Nations the moment Britain drops the reins of government in June, 1948.

Few observers believed it possible the disputing Moslem League and Congress party could smooth over their differences in the next 15 months to a point where they could unite in forming a central government.

Moslem League sources declared there was not the slightest possibility that anything short of complete separation from Hindu-dominated parts of India would satisfy the Moslems.

Conflict over which part of India would be included in the proposed independent Moslem state seemed likely to send the problem to the U.N.

WAVELL STATEMENT?

LONDON (Reuter) — Prime Minister Attlee will be asked in the House of Commons whether Viceroy Lord Wavell will be allowed to make a public statement on his recall from India.

The question, notice of which has been given a Scottish Liberal member, Henderson Stewart, follows Mr. Attlee's refusal in the House Thursday to give the reasons for the recall and appointment of Admiral Lord Mountbatten, former commander in Southeast Asia, in Viscount Wavell's place.

Meanwhile, the government left squarely up to feuding Hindu and Moslem leaders today the question of whether India intends to win independence in bloody civil war or through peaceful negotiations by the time Britain sets her reign over the rich subcontinent 16 months hence.

Seeks New Pacts

Believing prospects for world peace are better than at any previous time since the war, Premier Paul Ramadier of France, above, looks forward to a joint three-power declaration between Britain, France and the Soviet Union of friendship and mutual assistance. He plans to work for a friendship pact with the U.S. as a partner to the Anglo-French agreement now being concluded.

Heaviest Snows In Recent Years Sweep Westward

NEW YORK (AP)—The heaviest snowstorm in recent years brought death to at least 31 persons today as the east struggled to maintain business as usual through falling snow that reached a depth of 27 inches in Virginia—and kept falling.

Schools closed, highways were snowbound and business and industry slowed down.

Over-exertion in shovelling snow and traffic accidents were the chief cause of death.

Among the deaths were: New Jersey 6, Pennsylvania 2, Connecticut 2, New York 2, District of Columbia 1, Illinois 2.

While the full weight of snow hit the eastern seaboard states, extreme cold followed on its heels over the Great Lakes and middle west. The temperature registered 21 degrees below zero at Bemidji, Minn., and below zero weather extended over Minnesota and North Dakota.

In New York City 11 inches of snow had fallen by 10.45 a.m. and the weather bureau forecast the temperature would go to 10 degrees tonight.

President Presents $350,000,000 Relief Budget To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman asked the United States Congress today to vote $350,000,000 for relief aid to people of liberated countries.

In a message to the legislators, the President noted that full-scale supply operations by Unrra are rapidly drawing to a close, and said:

"On humanitarian grounds, and in the light of our own self-interest as well, we must not leave the task unfinished. We can not abandon the peoples still in need."

Mr. Truman's recommendation was only for liberated countries. United States relief activities in occupied countries, such as Germany and Austria, are financed by the War Department from its appropriations.

The President recommended that future U.S. relief assistance be given directly rather than through an international organization, and "be administered under United States control."

He said that in some liberated countries, Unrra will have achieved its objective fully" when Unrra's supply operations cease. He explained that means they will be again "self supporting so far as the basic essentials of life are concerned."

But in other liberated countries, Mr. Truman said this is not yet the case and what remains to be done, while relatively small and limited in time and scope, is "nonetheless vitally important."

Curb Extension Of Liquor Selling Until Full Investigation Made, B.C. Women Ask

A full royal commission inquiry into liquor questions before any increase is made in facilities for the manufacture, distribution or sale of alcoholic beverages in B.C. was urged of the provincial cabinet today by the B.C. Provincial Council of Women.

A 15-woman delegation headed by Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, president, Victoria, was introduced to the cabinet by Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A. for Victoria.

The women asked that the commission inquiry consider the manufacture, customs, advertising and promotion of the drink trade, "the effect of the trade upon the public, the government, health, efficiency and welfare of the people." They suggested that the evidence be taken on oath and the facts be published and made available to the citizens of this province.

"We would strongly urge that no plebiscite on the liquor question be taken and no license granted, and that there be no increased facilities for the manufacture, distribution or the sale of alcoholic beverages in B.C. by any action or consent of the provincial government until such commission has fully investigated and reported, and that adequate time be given before a plebiscite be taken," the delegation's brief said.

The delegation also asked that all liquor advertising be halted because such advertising:

1. Increase the sale and consumption of liquor which, from a welfare standpoint is most undesirable.

2. Is contrary to the professed purpose of the government control system.

3. Is inconsistent with the scientific temperance instruction given in schools and will tend to undermine the confidence in the teachers and schools.

4. A British Royal Commission had reported much liquor advertising "amounted to palpable scientific untruths."

5. This action would be in harmony with that of the CBC in abolishing liquor advertising from the radio.

6. This action was recognized by the government before the war.

"It is one thing under our law to meet a taste or demand for liquor, but quite another thing to create and cultivate a demand for it," said the delegation.

New Timber Controller

OTTAWA (CP)—Reconstruction Minister Howe announced today appointment of Wilbur E. Uren, formerly of Toronto, as timber controller to succeed Billy Terence F. Flahiff, Toronto and Ottawa, whose resignation became effective today. Also announced was the resignation of Murray R. King, formerly of Simcoe, Ont., as deputy timber controller.

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—William R. Cranston, 36, district sales manager for the Ford Motor Co., Vancouver, died in the hospital here today as a result of injuries suffered when he fell from the C.N.R. wharf and struck his head on the side of the steamer Prince Rupert. His wife resides in Vancouver.

May Ban Portal Pay

WASHINGTON (CP) — The House of Representatives judiciary committee approved today a measure outlawing virtually all portal-to-portal pay claims. The Senate judiciary committee met separately, but failed to take final action.

Prussia Dissolved

BERLIN (AP) — Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, in his last press conference in Berlin as American Military Governor in Germany, announced today the Allied Control Council had agreed to promulgate a law dissolving Prussia, the heart of German militarism. He declared Germany must remain under occupation for 10 to 15 years to insure world security.

Where Are Buses?

WASHINGTON (CP) — Blizzard conditions sweeping the eastern United States caused this cry of distress from a Virginia transportation line early today: "We haven't got back eight buses we sent out last night."

Winter Tightens Grip On Europe

LONDON (AP) — Winter tightened its weeks-long grip on central and northern Europe today, causing new deaths in Germany, surrounding Scandinavia with vast ice-fields and intensifying the critical fuel shortage in the British Isles.

Berlin police reported eight more persons died of exposure, bringing the toll since Dec. 1 to approximately 180. Temperature fell to 10 above zero in Berlin and 15 above in southern Germany.

Sweden was almost entirely surrounded by ice masses. Freight cars loaded with export goods brought transport chaos to Gothenburg, the country's only open port.

Solid ice in the Baltic Sea linked Germany's north coast with Denmark's southermost islands and the Danes considered strengthening coastguard precautions to prevent Germans from walking across.

Vast ice floes, one four miles long by a half-mile wide, menaced North Sea shipping as a new blizzard, sweeping in from the east, lashed England's south coast. English Channel shipping conditions were the worst of the winter.

Sub-freezing weather returned to northern Italy and more snow was forecast. Temperatures reached 37 above in Paris early today, but the government, in a fuel-saving measure, ordered night clubs and cabarets to close two days each week.

Fuel shortages also cut deep into the economic life of Belgium and Holland, where observance of this week's holy days by workers slowed fuel production and transportation.

British Colliers Brave Gales

Eighteen coal ships from British northeast coast ports which braved gale warnings and drifting ice brought some 36,000 tons of coal to shivering London Thursday night. All over the country snow fell, and on the Sussex coast the weather reached what Britons thought "blizzard" standard.

As workers throughout the country kept up the effort to move coal from the coalfields to industrial and other centres, one main line railroad announced it had set a record in coal haulage, with 237,960 tons moved Thursday—more than at any time since the fuel crisis broke Feb. 10.

Macclesfield, the British silk industry's centre in Cheshire, came out of the industrial blackout today—three days before the first large-scale bans on the use of industrial electric current were to come off in the Midlands. More than 40 firms had their current restored, as the local power station used crude oil as fuel.

Striking Maritime Miners Prepare For Lengthy Fight

GLACE BAY, N.S. (CP) — Cape Breton labor began to tighten its lines today as the United Mine Workers (C.C.L.) prepared for a fight "to a finish" with Maritime coal operators predicted by union chief Freeman Jenkins.

As Mr. Jenkins, president of U.M.W. District 26, headed home from a series of fruitless conferences in Ottawa, the Cape Breton Labor Council scheduled a meeting for Sunday to discuss support for the 13,000 striking miners in the Maritime Provinces.

John R. MacDonald, president of the council representing 15,000 C.C.L.-affiliated workers of this industrial area, said his organization was "100 per cent behind the U.M.W. and we intend to call on all affiliated bodies to come to their support."

His departure from Ottawa Thursday night indicated prospects of an early settlement of the six-day-old dispute with Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation had failed.

Officials of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation declined comment on Mr. Jenkins' statement that the miners were prepared to hold out three months if necessary to obtain their chief demand—a $1.40 increase above the current basic daily wage of $5.84.

Dosco had offered a $1 increase conditional on higher production, but the union refused to accept it even when it was made part of a government formula which would have provided the remaining 40 cents of the union demands through a boost in the price of coal.

The walkout brought coal production in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to a standstill.

Family Allowance Reaches New High

Family allowances paid in February by the B.C. regional office here reached a new high of $1,419,723, W. R. Bone, regional director, announced today. This amount represents payments to 125,188 families for 239,109 children.

The influx of families into B.C. as compared with those leaving the province remained at the ratio of two to one; 439 family allowance accounts having been received from other provinces, while 219 were transferred to other parts of the Dominion.

Alberta led the list with 164 families transferred to B.C., Saskatchewan was second with 126, and Manitoba third with 76. The three provinces received B.C. families as follows: Alberta, 97; Saskatchewan, 38; Manitoba, 27.

Provinces Demand Russians Quit China

NANKING (AP) — A delegation of 400 representatives of seven north China provinces asked the government today to protest against Russian troops staying in Chinese territory.

The delegation urged the government to demand the immediate withdrawal of Russian troops from the port of Rairen, and to insist on the return of all industrial equipment removed from Manchuria.

The petitioners proposed that if the Manchurian question could not be solved that it be presented to the United Nations.

20 Killed, Scores Injured In Pennsylvania Train Wreck

Wrecked cars of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Red Arrow lay sprawled over the side of an embankment near Altoona, Pa., after they had tumbled from the track above. Twenty persons lost their lives and nearly 100 were injured.

Doctors Scared Off In Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan's chances of bringing physicians into the province were adversely affected by publicity given by John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative M.P. for Lake Centre, and the press to an alleged provincial bill aimed at regimenting the professions, Premier T. C. Douglas said today in an interview. Of seven eastern medical school graduates who decided not to come to Saskatchewan after accepting positions in health centres, a number said they had read of the government's intention to regiment the professions and would not come on that account, Mr Douglas said.

Try Juggling Scarce Box Cars So All Industry Keeps Running

By CANADIAN PRESS

Allocation of rolling stock so no industry will be forced to close down will be the aim of the Dominion transport controller and the railways in meeting the transportation crisis brought about by the estimated shortage of 13,000 freight cars.

Transport Minister Chevrier made this clear in Ottawa when he said in the Commons the boxcar situation was "very acute." Everything possible was being done to distribute available equipment among affected industries as equitably as possible, the minister told Parliament Thursday afternoon.

Top priority has been awarded the movement of wheat from the prairies to British Columbia and Atlantic ports, with feed grain for livestock in central Canada a close second. With shipments to Britain far behind the schedule of the four-year Anglo-Canadian agreement, Vancouver was without grain in her elevators while ships in harbor waited to load and others were nearing port to take on wheat cargoes. Elevators at Halifax and Saint John were low, but some grain was moving.

Railway officials in Saskatchewan estimated it would be another week before the carriers would be fully recovered from blizzards which left hundreds of freight cars snowbound.

The newsprint industry, seeking to maintain production while without means to move its product from plants, mustered all available storage space.

The aluminum industry indicated it could get by if the railways could make open-top cars available. Canada Cement officials reported shipments had been slowed down. Automobile factories in Ontario were shipping new vehicles on flat cars.

Council To Open Arena Bids Monday

The City Council will hold a special meeting 10.30 Monday morning to open the tenders for the roof and walls of Memorial Arena, Mayor Percy George announced today.

Immediately following the council meeting the arena committee will convene under the chairmanship of Ald. R. A. C. Dewar to consider the tenders. C. T. Hamilton, consulting engineer, will be in attendance.

The question of the amalgamation investigation will also come up at the special meeting.

The council was officially informed today of Saanich's decision not to co-operate in any investigation into the meaning of amalgamation.

Ottawa Estimates Figured To Please

OTTAWA (CP)—It may be another two and possibly three weeks before the government tables in the Commons its estimates for the next fiscal year, government sources indicated today.

"I think the public is going to like what it sees when they finally are tabled," one source said.

Parking Meters, Daylight Time Among Topics Before Cabinet

Fifteen resolutions covering a wide range of topics were presented to the provincial cabinet by the Union of B.C. Municipalities executive this morning, in addition to recommendations regarding the implementation of the Goldenberg Report which are the result of a two-day conference with Hon. R. C. MacDonald, minister of municipal affairs.

The 15 resolutions were approved at the annual meeting of the U.B.C.M. in Harrison Hot Springs last fall. Mayor Percy George is second vice-president of the organization and appeared with the delegation today.

Among the requests which will have the greatest effect on Victoria, if acceded to by the provincial government, is the one which asks for an amendment to the Municipal Act to allow the installation of parking meters. Mayor George has indicated several times in the past year that he favors the parking meters as the answer to Victoria's growing traffic problem.

The question of licensing and regulating electricians was approved in principle, if the provisions apply to contractors only and the regulations be under provincial jurisdiction and province-wide.

The government is asked to pay 80 per cent of the cost of medical attention for social assistance, mothers' allowance and old-age pension cases on the basis of 40 cents per month per case, and also to assume full responsibility for the maintenance of illegitimate children.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS

On behalf of old-age pensioners the U.B.C.M. asked provincial support in a campaign to have the federal government abolish the means test and grant old-age pensions to all citizens with residence qualification who have attained the age of 65, and increase the amount of the pension to $50 a month.

Provincial daylight saving time was asked during the summer months, to prevent the confusion now resulting when all municipalities are not operating on the same time.

Exemption from the payment of gasoline tax for gasoline used by municipally-owned machinery and equipment in the construction and maintenance of roads was another request.

AIRPORT FACILITIES

Another of the resolutions presented asked the provincial government to institute a program of assistance to municipalities in the establishment and development of airport facilities throughout the province, pointing out that the terrain of B.C. is so difficult that in many instances the cost of establishing airports would be beyond municipal financing.

Joint action on the part of provincial and federal governments to make provision for the financing of urgent public works in municipalities at low interest rates was requested. This would make possible many necessary and long-delayed extensions and replacements which have formed part of most reconstruction and postwar rehabilitations schemes.

The remainder of the resolutions dealt with the placing of the entire Kootenay district in the mountain time zone, allowing municipally owned trucks to travel in other than their home municipalities without breaking the Highway Act, the prevention of floods in the Fraser River, the refunding of North Vancouver's debt, and the taxing of Crown lands after they have been sold.

Scenic Influence On Art Forms Talked

The manner in which the landscape and the rugged simplicity of life in the hinterland of Quebec and the Maritime provinces has influenced art forms and art techniques in Canada was graphically described by Miss Phyllis Baxendale Thursday evening to a meeting in the Little Centre.

Miss Baxendale, who is a professor of modern languages at Victoria College, told of a trip through eastern Canada, which included the Gaspe Peninsula, Nova Scotia and other sections of Quebec, describing vividly the scenic beauties and also the way of life of the people there.

She said that the vivid colors of the environment had strongly influenced the people, who are proud and self-sustaining with a strong pride in craft and workmanship.

Miss Baxendale discussed at some length the culture of French Canada.

The color and scene of eastern Canada accounted, she felt, for much of the poster-like technique of the paintings of many outstanding artists, because to convey the bold rhythms of nature there, a simplification of form is essential.

Film Depicts Life Of Swift's Founder

"The Red Wagon," a 40-minute film short depicting the courage and accomplishments of Augustus F. Swift, founder of the nation-wide packing firm which bears his name was presented before members of the Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon in the Empress Hotel Thursday.

Filmed in technicolor the short was presented through the courtesy of Ab Lindsay, local manager of Swift Canadian Co. Ltd.

Borrowing $20 from his father when 18 years of age Mr. Swift started on his career by buying a heifer and selling the meat to residents of the Cape Cod district. His ambition grew from this first business venture and with the aid of his wife who shared his dreams of expansion he revolutionized the meat packing industry.

The film concluded with shots taken from various meat and packing firms throughout Canada and United States.

Presbytery Frowns On Horse Racing, Lotteries Here

Lotteries designed to keep hospitals out of the red and horse racing came under the ban of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church of Canada at Thursday's sessions at Metropolitan Church.

The following resolution was adopted in connection with the proposal to introduce lotteries for the upkeep of hospitals: "In view of the known facts accruing from places where the principle has been tried, this Presbytery affirms it to be a wasteful and demoralizing practice to admit into our public life, and that it should be discouraged at the outset."

The Presbytery further recommended that the provincial governmen be urged to formulate a plan to finance the hospitals by such methods as they may deem best.

With regard to the racing situation at Willows Park, the Presbytery is convinced that such activities are not conducive to the building-up of a healthy community life, and must have a harmful influence on youth. The Presbytery therefore commended the Oak Bay Municipal Council for seeking the curtailment of racing, and called on the provincial Legislature to support this stand.

In connection with the report on Home Missions, presented by Rev. J. C. Jackson, the Presbytery was addressed by Rev. W. P. Bunt, superintendent of Home Missions for B.C., who pointed out that an effort was being made to bring the salaries of men engaged on Home Mission fields up to the minimum standard of $1,750 per annum. He referred also to manifestations of progress found especially among the youth of our B.C. native people, and of their growing desire to enter upon the rights of citizenship. Special interest of Presbytery centred around the report of the committee on Evangelism and Social Service as presented by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse.

During the day's sessions, Rev. Joseph Sidney Clark, pastor of Courtenay United Church, was elected to the office of chairman of Presbytery for the church year, commencing July 1. Rev. J. C. Thomson, B.A., pastor of Wilkinson Road-Garden City Church, was again elected Presbytery secretary. I. Land was reappointed to the office of treasurer.

Says $8,000,000 Of City Debt Should Be Borne By Whole Area

In presenting his arguments for amalgamation of the four municipalities of Greater Victoria at a luncheon meeting of the junior chamber Thursday, Forrest L. Shaw stressed that under the present system Victoria had paid for and still carried a big financial load which residents of all the other municipalities should share.

He spoke of the great desire in the greater area for construction of a large civic centre, embracing an auditorium, arts and crafts galleries and other features, an arena and many other things.

To get these desires, Victoria taxpayers would have to shoulder the cost and yet the facilities be utilized by Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt.

Mr. Shaw was sure that the arena would not be a financial success. "I'm sure we would lose money on it, but I would be willing to stand that cost as a taxpayer because it would be such an essential feature to our life." While he would be willing to pay his share, Mr. Shaw was of the firm opinion its building and maintenance should be the financial responsibility of all who benefitted from it.

After listing big items which Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt owned, he pointed to the following owned by Victoria which were beneficial to all: Garbage wharf, $3,000,000 of reverted lands, Jubilee Hospital investment, $360,000 water supply, a $4,000,000 water supply system and others.

"Over $8,000,000 should be deducted from Victoria's debt of $10,000,000 and placed as a charge on the whole area," he said.

The importance of educating the public on the imperative need for amalgamation was emphasized by Mr. Shaw and he was joined by H. Cuthbert Holmes, president of the senior chamber, in this. Mr. Holmes said he had been in favor of amalgamation for more than a quarter of a century, was involved in the first agitation for it. It was also expressed that not only the public needs presentation of the benefits that would arise from a unification, but also members of the various councils. The junior chamber expressed a desire to help in the campaign.

Patricia Travers Dazzles Audience With Her Violin

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

The term "genius" is greatly abused, being frequently applied to any boy or girl with something more than average talent. Critics today have become increasingly cautious in the use of it. But surely none could hesitate to apply it to Patricia Travers, 19-year-old violin virtuoso, who dazzled and enchanted her audience in a spectacular program at the Royal Theatre Thursday night.

Miss Travers, who has been concertizing since the age of nine, has, to begin with, a great charm of manner; the unique combination of poise, confidence and unaffected youth. As an artist, she could play note for note with any of the greatest living violinists without fear of comparison. Her bowing arm is sure and powerful, her fingering brilliant and facile. She draws from her instrument, a rare quality of tone, full of vibrancy, warmth and color. Every part of her performance is in perfect balance, the work of a truly great artist.

BRILLIANT PLAYING

A preliminary glance at the extensive program heralded a violinist extraordinary — three Sonatas and the Sibelius D minor Concerto with a group of four shorter pieces. The Sonata in G minor for unaccompanied violin by Bach, was a stupendous undertaking, brilliantly accomplished. Following this came the Concerto, full of imagination, color and vigorous rhythms. Sibelius has embroidered his themes with much involved passage-work and complicated cadenzas. Through all of this the violinist swept with concentrated absorption and dazzling ease. The ovation which greeted this work was rightly shared by the sympathetic and very able accompanist, Hendrik Endt.

An interesting contemporary composition was the Second Sonata by Charles Edward Ives, who is being hailed as one of the greatest composers American has so far produced. The thematic ideas definitely have their basis in American folk-lore, and displayed Miss Travers' wonderful feeling for atmosphere and rhythm.

Her final group included the irresistible "Habanera" (Sarasate), the Heifetz arrangement of the lovely poetic "Beau Soir" by Debussy, "Burleska" (Suk), and the breathlessly brilliant Paganini-Auer "Caprice No. 24." Encores were "The Labyrinth" (Locatelli), the Primrose arrangement of Arthur Benjamin's "Jamaican Rhumba," "Hora Staccato" (Dinicu-Heifetz) and "Perpetual Motion" (Novacek).

Life Underwriters' Congress April 25

Victoria and Island Life Underwriters' Association, at the monthly meeting held at the Empress Hotel Wednesday, was addressed by Charles Mann, C.A., on "The Link Between the Life Underwriter and the Chartered Accountant."

R. S. A. Jackson, president, was chairman.

The secretary announced that an educational congress will be held in Victoria April 25 under the auspices of the Life Underwriters' Association.

Victorians Aboard On Maiden Voyage Of New C.N. Ship

Three Victorians are aboard the 7,500-ton motor vessel Canadian Constructor, which left New Westminster today on her maiden voyage in command of Capt. D. C. Wallace, O.B.E., D.S.C., for Jamaica, Trinidad, Barbados and British Guiana, after which she will proceed to Halifax.

The Victorians are Mr. and Mrs. R. C. W. Lett and Dr. C. M. Rolston, destines for Barbados. Bound for British Guiana are Mrs. E. M. Hampton, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. K. McLaren, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Pope and R. W. Long of Montreal.

The Canadian Constructor has been just completed by Burrard Drydock Co. for Canadian National Steamships' West Indies service. Sister ships, the Canadian Cruiser and Canadian Challenger, built at Montreal and Quebec respectively, are already on the C.N.S.S. West Indies run.

Equipped with the most modern navigational facilities, the diesel-engined, cargo-passenger vessel, largest of its kind ever built in B.C., is powered with 6,000 h.p. four-cylinder diesel marine engines developing 16 knots. The motorship has 16,000 cubic feet of refrigerated space and has luxurious accommodation for 12 passengers.

On her first voyage, the Canadian Constructor's all-B.C. full cargo includes lumber, shingles, matches, fertilizers and apples.

Forestry Engineers Meet In Vancouver

Important matters dealing with forestry were discussed at the 39th annual meeting of the Canadian Society of Forest Engineers meetings this week in Vancouver.

Three main topics of discussion were on the agenda:

Relation between state and private forestry, featuring talks by A. R. Fenwick of the Ontario Forest Service and F. D. Mulholland, B.C. forester; Work and plans of the forestry and forest products division of the Forest and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations, described by D. Roy Cameron, Dominion forester, Ottawa, and the status of the forestry profession by H. J. Hodgins, chief forester of Pacific Mills Ltd., and W. A. E. Pepler, secretary-manager of the Quebec Forest Industries Association.

H. R. MacMillan spoke at the annual dinner.

Invite 12 Cities In U.S. To Participate In May 24 Parades

Letters to officials in 12 United States Pacific Northwest cities, Vancouver, North Vancouver, New Westminster and all Island centres have been forwarded by Norman Foster, secretary of the executive council of the Greater Victoria 24th of May Celebrations Association, inviting all to have representation in the 1947 Victoria Day parades.

United States cities contacted are Portland, Salem, Everett, Seattle, Port Angeles, Port Townsend, Bellingham, Bremerton, Tacoma, Olympia, Bothell and Arlington, while Island centres are Duncan, Ladysmith, Nanaimo, Courtenay, Port Alberni, Shawnigan Lake and Sidney.

A new feature of the association arrangements for this year's four-day celebrations program is the establishment of reception committees to meet visiting city's representatives at the docks, attend to their comforts and act as guides during their stays and see them off on the boat. The Knights of Pythias will take over this assignment.

Hogs At Highest Price In History On Chicago Market

CHICAGO (AP) — The pigs coming to market nowadays are the most valuable combination of meat and lard ever to land in the Chicago stockyards.

With prices experiencing a persistent upturn, pigs today are "black gold" to the farmer who reared them, and a mighty wallop to the pocketbook of the consumers who will eat the meat that comes off them.

Average price of all hogs sold in the Union Stockyards Thursday was the highest in history at approximately $26.50 a hundredweight. Top price of $27.50 matched the all-time record set last Oct. 15. A year ago the price ceiling on live hogs was $14.85.

Responsible for the price advance, livestock sources said, were small receipts and a continued good demand.

How high will hog prices go?

That depends, traders said, on how much consumers are willing to pay for pork, but there are some estimates that $30 a hundredweight will be reached before the new crop starts coming to market in May. Everyone admits that's a fabulous price for a pig.

Hogs arriving at stockyards now are the product of last spring's crop, which was comparatively small. Last autumn's pigs won't have enough weight on them for a trip to market until this spring.

"Already 80 per cent of the 1946 spring pig crop has been marketed," an Agricuture Department spokesman said. "The outlook is for a continuing small run over the next several months."

News Of The Island

Breeding Enough Turkeys To Fill Domestic Needs

Prospects this year indicate that growers and breeders in British Columbia will be in a better position to fill domestic needs and may for the first time be able to supply British Columbia households with British Columbia turkeys, says an announcement of the Vancouver Island Turkey Improvement Association.

Turkey meat is no longer reserved for Thanksgiving and Christmas but is used in hotels, restaurants and many homes the year round. Turkeys have been bred to fit every need from the plump breasted, beautifully finished Beltsville White hen at 9 pounds to the magnificent Broad Breasted Bronze tom for those who want a bird ranging up to 40 pounds.

Breeding stock kept for the 1947 season has increased 100% over 1946 but still may not meet all requirements. High quality stock from British Columbia has so proven its value on the prairies that many thousands day-old poults and hundreds of cases of eggs are sent from British Columbia each year.

The consumption of turkeys in British Columbia for 1946 was estimated at 3,010,000 pounds. In the past this province relied on importations from the prairies bringing in last year 52 cars or 1,560,000 pounds and also brought in 930,000 pounds from the United States.

B.C. Coal Output Falls In January

British Columbia's waning coal output was down 16,900 tons last month from January, 1946.

Monthly report of the chief inspector of mines showed today that production last month totaled 117,317 long tons. Output in January, 1946, was 134,217 long tons.

Vancouver Island coal mines produced 45,562 tons, against 49,984 tons in January, 1946. Chief producers on the island were Comox Colliery, 19,934 tons last month, No. 10 Mine, South Wellington, 19,561 tons, and White Rapids Mine, 4,887 tons.

East Kootenay district continued as the largest producing area, Elk River Colliery producing 22,041 tons last month and Michel Colliery, 3,456 tons.

Output in the Nicola-Princeton district was up slightly to 4,718 tons and in the northern district it also showed a slight gain to 1,540 tons.

Manager To Buy Gutted Property Of Alberni Hotel

PORT ALBERNI — Tim Ely, manager of the Somass Hotel here, said today he intended to purchase the hotel property on conclusion of the insurance adjustment.

The Somass Hotel was destroyed Monday night when a $150,000 fire left the frame sections a charred ruin and gutted a new brick wing.

Mr. Ely said he would reopen a portion of the hotel which would be ready for occupancy within six weeks. Later he intended to construct a two-story, 100-room hotel.

The property belongs to the Waterhouse Estate.

Northern Indians In B.C. Play Poker

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP)—Indians in this far northern outpost have taken to spending their time playing poker instead of working their trap lines.

This development here is accepted as a manifestation of the penetration of the white man's civilization.

The Indians said they preferred poker to trapping, because the snow was so deep this winter, five to six feet, that fur-bearing animals had gone to more suitable climes.

But while they were absorbed in the intricacies of filling an inside straight, a graver problem was confronting them. The beaver tribe was said to be in danger of starvation and sickness was more prevalent than in normal times.

Prominent B.C. Business Heads Guilty Of Fraud

VANCOUVER (CP)—Veteran businessman, J. L. Northey, 66, today was sentenced to 18 months in prison and a fine of $1,000, and his two sons, Paul M. and Archibald J., were sentenced to three years in penitentiary and fined $2,000 each for conspiring to defraud the Dominion government on war contracts.

In lieu of the $1,000 fine, the elder Northey must serve an additional three months and the younger Northeys, in lieu of $200 fines, would serve additional six-month sentences.

Northey Sr. is president of Millwork Industries Ltd. and Paul and Archibald are directors.

Senator J. W. de B. Farris, defence counsel, said he would make an immediate appeal and would seek bail pending a hearing. He contended conspiracy had not been proved. Irregularities were more in the category of income tax evasion than fraud, he claimed.

Ss. Kathleen Will Resume Triangle Service June 22

With the return to operation here in June of the Canadian Pacific Railway's coastwise vessel Princess Kathleen, direct overnight steamship passenger service between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle will be re-established for the first time since November, 1941.

First nightly run from Vancouver to Seattle will be made by the Kathleen on June 22, the Princess Charlotte taking the night sailing from Seattle in the opposite direction.

The Vancouver-Seattle overnight service was disrupted in 1941 when the Canadian Pacific's Princess Kathleen and Princess Marguerite were called into war service as troop carriers for the British Admiralty. An enemy torpedo victim, the Marguerite did not return, and now lies at the bottom of the Mediterranean.

Refitting of the 5,875-ton Princess Kathleen, which returned to coast waters last summer after nearly five years of trooping, is progressing rapidly at the Victoria Machinery Depot Ltd. yards here.

With the Princess Charlotte she will alternate between the daily "triangle" run and the direct Vancouver-Seattle trip. On the latter, the ships will leave Vancouver at 10.45 p.m., arriving in Seattle at 7 a.m. Northbound sailings will leave Seattle at 11 p.m., arriving in Vancouver at 8 a.m.

Taxpayers Approve Road Resolutions At Lake Shawnigan

SHAWNIGAN LAKE — Resolutions regarding condition and maintenance of the side roads and main highways in the district here were approved by the South Cowichan Taxpayers' Association meeting at Cobble Hill. The resolutions will be sent to the district members of the Legislature.

It was reported that the B.C. Telephone Company had installed a telephone at Malahat Lookout and another would be installed at Stacey's Boathouse, thus making two telephone connections on the long stretch between Mill Bay and Langford.

Winter Olympics

LAC BEAUPORT, Que. (CP)—An effort likely will be made to have the 1952 Winter Olympic Games held in the Province of Quebec, Hon. Gerald Martineau, president of the Ski Advancement Committee of Quebec City said today.

Other committee officials said Quebec's bid possibly would be entered at the time of the 1948 Winter Olympics at St. Moritz, Switzerland.

Vancouver Loses Popular Dog Eli

VANCOUVER (CP) — A familiar and lovable character will be missing from his stand at the corner of Granville and Dunsmuir Streets in downtown Vancouver next week.

Eli, the good-natured, English setter which for three-and-a-half years climbed a platform near the corner to collect coins for the Red Cross, is retiring.

He is giving up his social work to accompany his master, Harry C. Beckett, to a new home in another city.

For two hours a day since April, 1943, he has held forth on his box, giving passing citizens an opportunity to drop coins in two cans fastened to his harness.

And passersby responded to his mute yet eloquent appeal, contributing more than $10,000.

Once, temporarily blinded by a hunting accident, Eli did not occupy his stand for a few weeks. When he returned with his sight regained, thankful friends showered him with $50 in two hours.

Thousands who have seen Eli and succumbed to his paw-shaking, tail-wagging and tongue-lolling charm, are going to miss Vancouver's "best friend."

New 'Black Dahlia' Murder Clues Sought

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Discovery of a blood-stained culvert in picturesque Las Tunas Canyon, north of Santa Monica, sent investigators on a search Thursday for new clues in the "Black Dahlia" slaying of pretty Elizabeth Short, 22-year-old film hopeful.

Capt. Norris Stensland, after an inspection of the spattered, hand-marked concrete Wednesday night, said "a woman's body definitely could have been cut up in this pipe."

EMPIRE PREFERENCE

AUSTRALIA'S DIRECTOR-GENERAL OF Reconstruction, Dr. Herbert C. Coombs, told the Parliamentary Labor Party of the southern Dominion on Wednesday that Empire Preference is doomed—regardless of how the food-producing countries argue in their efforts to perpetuate the Ottawa pacts of 1932. Although he quotes no specific authority for his statement, this Antipodean official contends that Britain has decided the issue herself. Several reasons, of which the trading world is fully aware, point to that conclusion:

First, the policy of the Labor government at Westminster is to increase British exports by at least 75 per cent over the prewar level; second, it is unlikely that other countries of the British family would import this additional production; third, the American is the only market with the requisite absorptive capacity; fourth, the tacit understanding that the loan negotiated last year with the Washington government would be followed by a considerable modification of the economic exclusionism as represented by the pacts of 1932.

How far the Attlee administration has committed itself in respect of the fourth reason is not yet clear. It would appear certain, however, that only under pressure which has not yet made its appearance would the London government rid itself of all the bargaining power inherent in the operative principle of Empire Preference. And it is also to be noted that Hon. Douglas Abbott, Canada's Minister of Finance, the other day ordered the restoration—as of June 30 next—of the Dominion's prewar tariff schedule affecting the trading relationships between this country and the other member states of the British Commonwealth and Empire. While the guardian of the public till did not go into specific detail, since his action obviously was intended to end wartime arrangements, the tone and content of his statement indicated that he, too, wishes to preserve this country's bargaining points for use at the International Conference on Trade and Employment which will resume at Geneva on April 8.

Parliamentarians, industrialists, and economists have said and written a good deal about Britain's "export-or-die" campaign. And the British people are realizing now that upon greater production of commodities for sale in the world's markets depends their future welfare. By this token alone, therefore, unless the manufacturer in the United Kingdom can purchase his raw materials at a rock-bottom price—which, of course, means the world price—he cannot attain his maximum export objective. In other words, if the operation of the Empire Preference system stands in his way, his howl for something approaching a return to the old British free trade policy will go up to high heaven. For if his government is bent on increasing the nation's exports by 75 per cent, it would have to listen to his cry; indeed, the British people as a whole would back him in their own interests.

Nor should it be forgotten, incidentally, that there are only about 40,000,000 white people in the British Empire outside of the islands in the North Sea. And in the last quarter of a century all the overseas Dominions have become keen competitors of the United Kingdom in many of the major secondary industries. Furthermore, this country cannot expect to continue to sell Britain three dollars' worth of goods in return for less than half that amount of purchases—a condition which prevailed for many years before the Second World War.

PUERILE ARGUMENT

OUR FRIENDS IN THE SOUTHERN Dominion of Australia will learn with considerable surprise that they are slaves within the meaning and application of their electoral law. For a morning paper in this part of the British Commonwealth solemnly says that "compulsion, it has been written, is for slaves." And it rather lets itself go when it proceeds to say that "we can think of no faster way in which the Coalition would garrote itself with its own bowstring than to order the electors about at the ballot box."

It is beside the question, of course, to point out that British Columbians already are slaves because education is also compulsory within the meaning of the provincial Education Act. But in its breathlessness to assail the proposal now under consideration by the government, the morning paper speaks of ordering the electors about "at the ballot box." Such a puerile suggestion will not be taken seriously.

No British Columbian who treasures the privileges inherent in the Canadian democratic way of life will have the slightest objection to being painlessly reminded of the obligations that go with them. We in this province are free because the great majority of our people are profoundly grateful for the sacrifices endured by those noble souls of an earlier day who fought and died to establish the sanctity of the ballot box. The martyrs of old would turn in their graves if they thought that a responsible newspaper in 1947—after the survival of freedom against two serious threats from the same tyrant—could sum up courage to frown upon a call to duty with but a nominal penalty for failure. And what a howl would go up if this privilege were to be denied them.

This opponent of compulsory voting to which we have referred, moreover, knows full well that to "order the electors about at the ballot box" is about the last thing the special House committee had in mind. Its object was to provide an added reason why the electors should GO TO THE BALLOT BOX and manifest appropriate concern in what is their own business.

AUTHORITATIVE VOICE

FROM AN HONEST STUDY OF THE amalgamation question—a study facilitated by his access to information on municipal affairs as a former key official at the City Hall—Mr. Forrest L. Shaw is in a position to speak with authority on the unification of administrations and services of the Greater Victoria area. When he told the Junior Chamber of Commerce that "we need amalgamation now," and reminded members of that body that "the longer it is delayed, the longer this community will be without those services a city of 100,000 persons needs and should expect to have," he was giving the opinion of a well-informed man. Moreover, he was speaking as an individual no longer on the city's payroll, and consequently free of bias.

For many reasons, Mr. Shaw is admirably equipped to voice opinion on the question. As city solicitor he made himself thoroughly familiar with inter-municipal relations as they affect the different units in this community. To his normal duties were added those of acting solicitor for the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, in which function he had the opportunity of investigating municipal affairs in broader perspective. The arguments he has propounded should carry conviction. He has pointed out the fact that city indebtedness, under amalgamation, would not be thrust upon taxpayers of outside municipalities in cases in which they received no benefit from resulting services, and has balanced that factor with the statement that city assets would, correspondingly, not be given away without compensation. He advised the Junior Chamber, too, that unification should be approached from the viewpoint of mutual advantage, since one benefit alone would be increased efficiency and economy from joint use of services.

Mr. Shaw is to be congratulated on the lucid case he presented. It is to be hoped that the substance of his remarks will not be lost on those who have given the issue insufficient thought. No parochialism should be allowed to retard the unification which "is inevitable and is coming no matter what the views of various municipal councils may be."

CIVIL LIBERTIES

THE CONNECTION BETWEEN THE "spy" case in Canada and juke boxes in Victoria may not be very apparent; but both seem to involve a question of "civil rights". In the "spy" case the government has been assailed for violation of civil rights in its procedure. It is asserted that it is more important to preserve these rights than to expose a conspiracy against them. The question seems to be whether a more meticulous regard for ordinary judicial procedure would have evaded the responsibility of the government for law and order, and to what extent the government was acting under the emergency powers granted during the war, when many of the ordinary civil rights of citizens were necessarily suspended.

The fear that juke boxes for dances will displace Victoria musicians has been expressed to Mayor George in a letter from the Musicians Mutual Protective Union. In a competitive free society, the civil rights of an individual to use whatever type of music he chooses to attract customers—as long as he is not thereby committing a public nuisance—seems here to be in question. Moreover, it may be that the members of any union manufacturing juke boxes would have something to say to Mr. Petrillo's union on the same subject. Possibly "civil rights" should be suspended in the interests of art or culture. In that case, however, who is to be the judge, the special group interested in promulgating its own interests, the authority responsible for law and order, or public opinion acting on its own interpretation of what constitutes "civil rights"?

AN APPRECIATED GESTURE

FEW MONTHS GO BY WITHOUT THE attention of this community being directed to the heart-warming work which is being done at the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Mill Bay. Through the agency of the Solarium Junior League, a number of entertainment and social events are held to raise funds for that worthy institution. And in virtually every instance admirers of the organization are given something for their money other than the sense of satisfaction which support of a worthy cause supplies.

This week, for instance, the league lent its auspices to the B.C. Electric Vancouver Glee Club, which, with assisting artists, presented a concert of unusual appeal here. The success of the undertaking has been amply proved by the appreciation shown for the entertainment by those who patronized it. Victorians in general, as well as those particularly concerned with Solarium affairs, sincerely appreciate the assistance that is rendered in behalf of the little ones at Mill Bay, a curative centre very close to the heart of this community.

Walter Lippmann

THE LILIENTHAL CASE

SENATOR BREWSTER has put his objection to the appointment of Mr. Lilienthal on the ground that the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission should be a man "above suspicion and who commands far more general confidence." This raises a very important question, namely, whether in Mr. Brewster's view the fact that a man is accused makes him not above suspicion. That is what Senator Brewster appears to be saying.

Yet when he thinks it over, he cannot mean that. He cannot mean that he is going to surrender his own judgment and evade his own plain duty as a Senator to weigh the accusations of Senator McKellar and decide whether they are true or false. For if Senator Brewster's theory were once accepted, if to be accused is to be disqualified for public office, then no man's reputation is safe. Not a single Senator could meet the test that Mr. Brewster is applying to Mr. Lilienthal. Not one of them is "above suspicion" in the sense that he has never been attacked by political opponents. For no man can so conduct himself in public life that he is never attacked. No man can put himself "above suspicion." All he can do is to put himself above the suspicion of just and honest men who examine the charges against him.

NOR CAN WE ACCEPT the rest of Senator Brewster's theory, which is, it would appear, that only a man who is confirmed almost unanimously can command "general confidence." Because a public man has personal and partizan opponents when he is appointed, it does not follow that he may not come to command confidence.

There is, for example, the conspicuous case, as Mr. Krock reminded us the other day, of the former Chief Justice of the United States, Mr. Hughes. When President Hoover sent his nomination to the Senate, a strong opposition showed itself. He was attacked by some of the ablest and most high-minded Senators in both parties, for example by Senators Glass, Borah, Walsh of Montana, and Norris of Nebraska. He was charged with being a "corporation lawyer," and with failure to condemn, though he was a member of the Cabinet, "the riot of corruption" in the Harding administration. Mr. Hughes was confirmed, but only by a vote of 56 to 20. Thus in the eyes of more than a quarter of the Senators voting, Mr. Hughes was not above suspicion and did not command their confidence.

Yet he was one of the most distinguished of the Chief Justices of the United States, and he commands today the universal confidence of the American people.

WHETHER Mr. Lilienthal will eventually command general confidence cannot be determined today. His appointment is for two years, and at the end of this term, there may be a Republican President. In any event, if he is appointed, the Senate will be called upon again to pass upon him. But it will then be passing upon his performance in office and not upon the accusations of Senator McKellar.

In the meantime we are perhaps forgetting the positive reasons why Mr. Lilienthal was selected. It is that he has conducted successfully the one great operation which most nearly resembles the operations under the Atomic Energy Act. The Tennessee Valley Authority is in scale and scope extraordinarily similar to the Atomic Energy Commission. It is the administration of an enormously valuable national resources and public property in collaboration with private corporations and private individuals, involving scientific research and both civil and military service.

MR. LILIENTHAL happens to be the only man in the United States who has ever administered such a big and special project. No doubt other men could have done it. The fact of the matter is that he has done it, and that he possesses, not to be sure unique ability, but a unique experience. It was as natural to select him for this particular undertaking, especially at the beginning, as it was, for example, to send Admiral Byrd back to the Antarctic.

There is little doubt that the rejection of Mr. Lilienthal on the McKellar suspicions, or by partizan politics, would have costly consequences. The paramount national interest, both military and civil, requires that this country shall never fall behind, shall always be well forward, in the development of the pure and applied science of atomic energy. This depends not only on wealth and technological skill but finally upon the very highest forms of creative intellectual work.

THAT KIND OF WORK cannot be obtained just by paying for it. It certainly cannot be obtained by ordering it to be done. The creative imagination is a delicate and subtle thing, and all men are a little queer while it is working within them. The Senate does not have much to do with men of this sort. But here it is dealing with them, and somehow it will have to realize that the kind of atmosphere generated by Senator McKellar has much the same withering effect on the very highest type of intellect that a killing frost has on a fragile plant.

Maybe men endowed with the rare gift for penetrating the unknown and dedicated to the search for truth, ought to be tougher, and insensitive to an atmosphere of suspicion, superstition, and inquisition. But we shall have to take them as they are, and accept the fact that in an atmosphere like that of this nasty fight the best work of the best men may be lost.

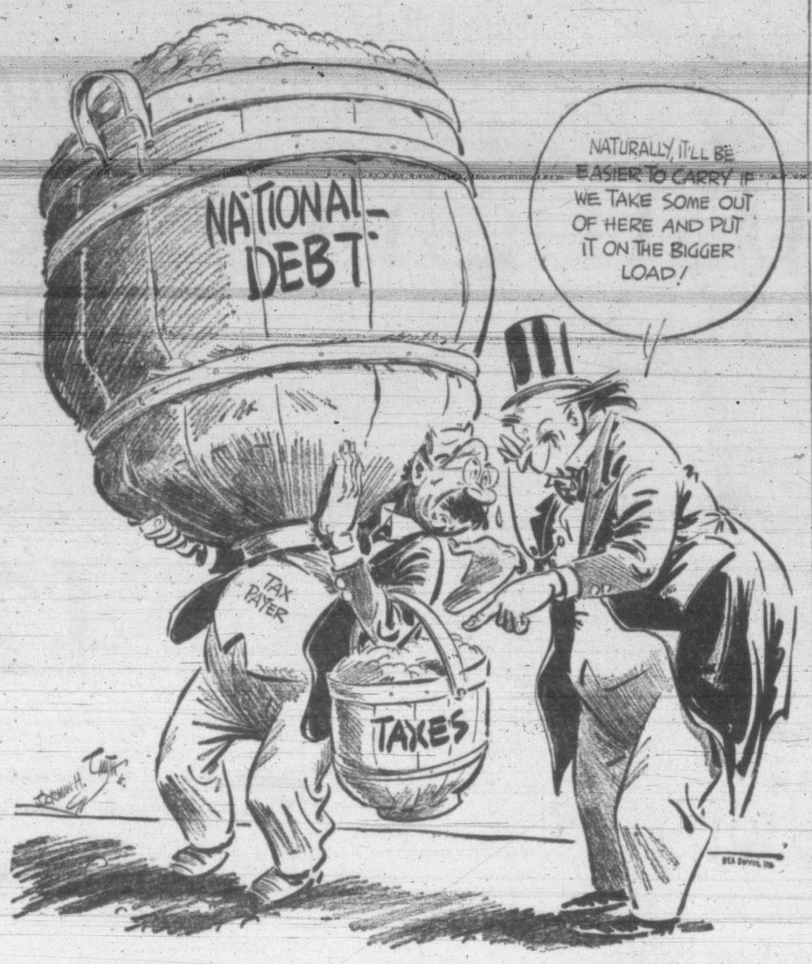
Sounds Sort Of Silly To Us



Oberammergau--Judas Was Honorable

By Willard A. Heaps in the "Christian Century", reprinted from Public Opinion, London.

THE BAVARIAN village of Oberammergau is known to Christians the world over as the scene of the famous Passion Play, which has been performed here regularly since 1634 in thanksgiving for deliverance from a plague then sweeping the country. Having lived there recently for several months, I can report that today the village appears to be untouched by the war.

The current topic of interest in Oberammergau is the anticipated revival of the Passion Play. Participation in the play is financially as well as spiritually rewarding. The "gate," is divided among the players on a pro rata basis, the remainder going into the village's coffers.

FINANCED PUBLIC WORKS

The last play paid for a huge municipal concrete swimming pool with elaborate modern bathhouses, one of the finest in all Germany, and made the local bank one of the richest in Bavaria. Tempting offers have been received from Hollywood and for road company presentations, but the play has never been given elsewhere.

Permission to produce it again has been granted by military government officials, the wardrobe has been checked and costumes repaired, carpenters have been working on the many sets, and properties are being refurnished. But the chief problem confronting the village is the selection of the cast from among the persons screened by military government.

NAZI ELEMENT

Many loyal nazis whose party membership dates from before May 1, 1937—the date set by the military government in defining "pure" Nazis who may not be cleared for public service, government, utilities, entertainment or any position of responsibility are not available for roles. It has been announced that 151 actors in the 1934 cast of 714 were members in good standing of the nazi party.

This is an extremely high percentage compared to that in the rest of the country. This revelation caused the Theatre magazine of Berlin to headline a recent story: "The Holy Family Not So Holy." These persons will be definitely ineligible to make public appearances if they fail to pass a planned second review screening. Almost 50 male players in the 1930 and 1934 performances have been killed or are in Allied hands.

The producer and director, Georg Lang, is now held in a detention camp in Garmisch for having been active in the Gobbels propaganda machine.

AS HONEST

The Judas (Hans Zwink) is the only man having a speaking part in past performances who is assured of a part in the future. Paradoxically, he is the only one among the 10 leading characters who resisted the attraction of party membership. He was in fact a strong anti-nazi.

Several of the women players have married since 1934 and, even if cleared, are therefore disqualified for major roles. Ritta Kosch, the Mary Magdalene of former presentations, now has a husband and two children.

Age will also take its toll. Miss Rutz, even if cleared is now 39 and many believe that a younger Mary should be selected. Aloys Lang, who played the Christus in 1930 and 1934, is 55 and it is therefore doubtful that he could survive the crucifixion scene in which he must remain suspended on the cross for half an hour.

NEW ACTORS

Many of the speaking parts will assuredly be taken by new actors, some of whom have been trained in the "School of the Cross," a sort of apprentice workshop which produces Old Testament plays every five years before or after a Passion Play. The military government is eager to license the production of the play as part of its program of cultural revival in the American zone of occupation.

One may well ask: What is the explanation for this prevalence of National Socialist support in a traditionally devout and Catholic village? Were the inhabitants guided by expediency or were they actually sincere? Could they have avoided out-and-out cooperation before and during the war?

The answer would seem to be that, attracted by the admirable public works and employment program of the early days of Hitler's power, Oberammergauers, like the majority of Germans, allied themselves with the nationalistic trend. Then, affected by the moral degeneracy and debasement characteristic of nazism, it was easy for them to forget the tradition of the village as a world-wide symbol of Christianity.

Like all Germans, the villagers look to the occupying Americans for forgiveness and absolution. As one peasant put it, "It is like a bad dream. We want to forget." Not all of them have been guilty of anti-religious and nazi activities; some are undoubtedly pious Christians. But the war created many opportunists of the first water, and they continue so, as do thousands of Germans wherever occupation forces are stationed. The players, like many of their countrymen, are Germans first and Christians afterwards.

GROWING SOFT?

Edmonton Journal

We hear a lot about the alleged softness and flabbiness of the present generation, as compared with their hardy ancestors. But two recent stories make us wonder whether we aren't actually developing a race of supermen.

In Vancouver, one Albert Defaure was peacefully asleep in bed, when his mattress caught fire. He was badly burned, but a neighbor rescued him just in time and he was rushed to the hospital in a screaming ambulance. At the hospital he woke up. He had slept through everything.

In Cleveland, William Gaylor made the mistake of trying to ride the couplings on a non-stop express in sub-zero weather. Snow pelted him, the wind howled between the cars, and at intervals, as the train took on water, he was drenched to the skin. When the police took him off at Buffalo, he was sheathed in ice from head to foot. But he was still able to walk to the cells.

Grandpa was never like that.

GETS NO PAY

I feel it my duty to write to your paper because several times lately I have found that people believe that our publicity secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Spurr, is being paid for the work she is doing for us old people. I would be ungrateful if I did not explain that Mrs. Spurr has never received one cent for any of the work she has done on our behalf. We have no money to pay for such service.

ANOTHER AIRPARK VIEW

Recently it was stated in the press that 98% of the people of the Gordon Head area are opposed to the proposed airpark. I am sure that if the facts were presented correctly, this percentage would be considerably less than 40%. However, this airpark is not only the issue of the Gordon Head people, but it concerns all of us on lower Vancouver Island. Where could the advantages of a close-in airpark be better demonstrated than on an island? One can fly to and from the mainland in one-tenth the time required for surface transportation.

I notice also that Mr. Penman contends that present airport facilities are sufficient for the next 50 years. Perhaps he is right, if the progress of the past 15 years in the Victoria area is an indication.

Vancouver Island needs this field for her young air-minded citizens, and to ensure the development of Victoria as a modern city. Anyone standing in the way of, or opposing such an airfield, cannot rightly call himself a progressive-spirited citizen.

G.I. BRIDE STORIES

Newspaper World (London)

A sharp attack on the Daily Mail's story of January 7 about the conditions under which some G.I. brides are living in America is contained in this week's edition of Pathe News. . . . seen, it is estimated, by 4,000,000 people in this country. The film feature was based on the Mail's story from Alan Waters with the heading "Girls Stranded in New York" and "The Brides of Despair". . . The camera visits war brides . . . who protest against the Mail's story and say they have found happy homes.

STRANGE HEROES

NEA Service

A Moscow shoe factory foreman who thought up some remarkable production improvements has been hailed by the Soviet press as a sort of combination Charles Bedaux and Henry Ford. It is interesting to read this complimentary comparison and then recall the bitter words the American Communists have said from time to time about Mr. Ford and the Bedaux speed-up system.

Maybe the domestic Reds do not ape every thought and word from Moscow, after all. Or, more likely, the Soviet admiration for industrial efficiency is able to leap even the thick hedge of Soviet ideological prejudice.

WINNIPEG ORCHIDS

Winnipeg Free Press

The numerous prairie holiday-makers who flee to the British Columbia coast about this time of year must be feeling very much at home. There has been ample snow in Vancouver and Victoria to remind the visitors of Winnipeg. The first spring flowers which they hoped to find out there are under a blackout—or should we say a whiteout? The golf courses where they expected to putt the ball on verdant greens are good for sleigh riding. The coastal children at last are enjoying one of the basic human rights of Canadian youth, which is wintet. However, we are assured that the snow never lies on the coast. Perhaps only the natives do.

ALL TO BLAME

Halifax Herald

March 31 has been set as the date of polling in the Cartier division of Montreal to fill the House of Commons vacancy caused by the expulsion of Fred Rose.

Many people ask how "this treacherous Communist" got into Parliament in the first place. They express astonishment that Rose ever should have been able to land himself in such a position of public trust.

The answer is easy enough. We are all to blame . . . government, Parliament, the public, one and all, we have perpetuated, or tolerated the perpetuation of, the sort of electoral system that makes possible the "election" of undesirable characters. Fred Rose never polled a majority of Canadian votes in his life.

Belgium Goes Ahead

News Review

MOST BELGIANS are smug about the quick return of their country to pre-war standards, but Camille Huysmans' government is now curbing its foreign spending and concentrating on building up exports. For the first nine months of last year imports were two and a half times as great in value as exports, but for October they were only one and a half times as great.

Before the war the world's sixth largest importer and seventh largest exporter, Belgium is bent on bettering that position. Chief drawback to getting industries into their full swing of production is the coal shortage. Belgian coal miners seem unable to bring to the surface more than 75 per cent of the pre-war output, which even then was not enough for all the needs of Belgian industry. To cope with this the government has imported 10,000 Italian miners, and hopes to get another 40,000 if accommodation can be found for them.

CUSTOMS MERGER

But Belgium's big bid to become an economic power is in the proposed customs merger with the Netherlands and Luxembourg. It is due to be put into effect some time this year. Dutch and Belgian economic experts are already working out details of the merger. On all international trade conferences Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg will be represented by a joint delegation.

Most important outcome of the agreement would be the pooling of resources in the wealthy Dutch and Belgian Empires. The Dutch Indies are rich in rubber, oil, sugar, and the Belgian Congo in copper, tin, gold, diamonds, cobalt and radium. Perhaps the Congo's biggest asset in a coming atomic age is the world's largest deposits of uranium.

Nuptial Vows For Muriel Holder

Wedding rings were exchanged Feb. 15, at St. Paul's United Church, Sidney, B.C., by Muriel Janet, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Holder of Deep Cove, and Richard Gilbert Lutte, Sidney, B.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lutte. Rev. E. S. Fleming officiated.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. R. H. Chappell, the bride entered the church with her father. A soft ivory satin gown, styled with fitted bodice, sleeves of French lace, with the slightly en train skirt fashioned in a bustle effect, was worn by the bride. A Mary Stuart headdress held her full-length veil and she carried a colonial bouuet of red rosebuds and white carnations. A gold bracelet, worn by her maternal grandmother on her wedding day, was the bride's only ornament.

Attending her sister, Miss Gwendolyn Holder chose a turquoise taffeta and net gown with a halo of mohair and snowdrops for her hair. She wore elbow-length mitts and pink and white carnations formed her colonial bouquet.

The groom's twin brother, Edward A. Lutte, served as best man, while ushering were Edwin J. Child and Glen John.

Forty guests were welcomed at the home of R. J. Wrigleswortn, Clayton Road, where mothers of the young couple assisted in receiving. A three-tier cake, flanked by lighted white tapers, and vases of pink and white carnations, centred the bride's table. Misses Betty Sparling, May Ferguson and Marion Munroe assisted in serving, while Mesdames Gordon Holder and Ernest Holder presided at the tea urns.

For a honeymoon motor trip in United States, the bride wore a plum wool suit fashioned with peplum, black accessories and corsage bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Lutte will make their home in Victoria.

California Trip Follows Davies-Pitzer Nuptials

A honeymoon motor trip to California is planned by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence William Davies, whose marriage was solemnized Thursday at 8, in Metropolitan United Church, by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse.

The bride, the former Doreen Pitzer, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Pitzer, 1200 Reynolds Road, was lovely in her gown of white satin, enhanced with an all-over lace yoke and long pointed sleeves, full skirt, slightly en train with veil of embroidered net loaned by Mrs. C. B. Mess, misted from a halo of orange blossoms. Yellow roses and white carnations with garlands of hyacinths formed her shower bouquet. She was given in marriage by her father.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Davies, 680 Burnside Road.

Tall white candles and a profusion of early spring plum blossoms, daffodils and iris formed the setting for the nuptial service, for which Edgar Holloway played traditional music. During the signing of the register, Mrs. D. Green sang "Because." Bridal attendants in pastel frocks of chiffon, were Mrs. Marguerite Nicholson, sister of the groom, as matron of honor, in powder blue; Mrs. Edna Smith and Mrs. June Barker, bridesmaids in shell pink. All wore fresh flower coronets and carried Colonial bouquets.

Harold Temple stood with the groom as best man, and acting as ushers were E. Ferrero and Robert Nicholson.

The lower lounge of the Empress Hotel was the scene of the reception where mothers of the bride and groom assisted in welcoming guests. A three-tier cake was cut by the young couple, and Dr. C. B. Mess proposed the toast to the bride's future happiness.

Presiding at the tea table were Mesdames C. B. Mess, John Armstrong, J. Pitzer, E. Clark, Percy Noel and Miss Lena Mitchell. Serviteurs were Mesdames B. Pistell, Alice Hunt, E. Limer and Misses B. Tavener, Eileen Watkins, Lorna Murgatroyd, Betty Austin and Vivian Young. For traveling the bride changed to a brown gabardine suit with brown hat trimmed in white, white accessories and gardenia corsage bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies will return to take up residence in the city.

El Club Espanol—Members of El Club Espanol met recently. Studies for the present are being taken from the Readers' Digest in Spanish. It was announced that entries for the essay competition must be in by April. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday in the office of Dr. Garesche, 732 Yates Street.

Golden Wedding Celebrated

Celebrating their golden wedding Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. William Williams, 1154 Kings Road, who welcomed intimate friends at a reception held at the home of their daughter, Mrs. G. A. A. Hebden, 1773 Lillian Road, followed by a family dinner.

Residents of Victoria for the past 35 years, Mr. and Mrs. Williams have two daughters, Mrs. Hebden, and Mrs. George Motion, and one son, Reg. Williams, all residing in Victoria.

Married in the Windsor Place Presbyterian Church in Cardiff, Wales, by Rev. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Williams moved across the Bristol Channel to Weston-Super-Mare in Somerset, England.

Presented Resolutions To Premier Hart This Morning

Headed by their president, Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, delegates to the annual meeting of the Provincial Council of Women, met Premier John Hart this morning to present resolutions passed at sessions concluded Thursday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A.

Officers elected for the following year are as follows: Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, Victoria, president, by acclamation; Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, Victoria, corresponding secretary, by aclamation; Mrs. J. A. Mahood, Chilliwack, recording secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. E. Fitzwater of Kamloops, first vice-president and Mrs. H. V. Collins, North Vancouver, second vice-president.

FINAL SESSION

At the afternon session, following a short address by Mr. George Matthews, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of British Columbia, the meeting decided to support legislation being proposed which would continue government wartime controls in regard to consumer credit policies for another year, during which time the groups affected would have opportunity of drawing up legislation mutually satisfactory to all.

Prior to reports from Local Councils of each district, covering the highlights of the work during the year, Mrs. Paul Smith gave a short talk regarding drug addicts, stating that in her opinion it would be futile to spend a great deal of money for an institution in an effort to cure addicts. She stated that heavy penalties should be imposed on drug peddlers and that efforts should be concentrated on stopping the illegal importation of drugs.

Mrs. Smith also asked the council to support the controlled government decontrol program until danger of serious inflation was over.

Lilly Dache Sets Millinery Style

NEW YORK (CP) — Lilly Dache's millinery collection for spring, one that sets the style for all other New York designers,

Her chapeaux are exquisite in line and color, of rich texture and intriguing design and featuring detachable trimming, giving aid to the budget-minded miss. This trimming serves a two-fold purpose — as delightful decor with hats, or as a glamorous, flowered-studded veil without a hat. Gayly-colored blossoms are scattered freely and caught in the mesh of heavy veiling.

The ultra-femine touch has been accentuated. Everything is lightness and fragility for spring. Hats are lavishly trimmed with flowers and feathers in the form of corsages attached to yards of tulle veiling and chiffon, to be worn swathed about hat brims or flowing in long scarf ends. Other corsages, really elaborate hat pins, may be transposed to the coat lapel, the high-low silhouette which Mme. Dache cites as the transition between the present day, back-on-the-head hat and the next logical fashion, comes down to a low point on the right cheek so as to cover the ear, helmet fashion, and concentrates trimming of ribbon, flowers or feathers high on the opposite side.

Elliptical lines in sailors, turbans, berets and larger-brimmed hats emphasize width by shortening the front and back. Although small, head-hugging shapes predominate, medium-sized brims are stressed for tailored wear as well as in dressier versions to replace the huge cartwheels for afternoon and evening wear.

Green seems to be taking the lead as the most fashionable color. But many hats are to be in delicate pastels or translucent neutrals; tender pink, a neutral called turtledove, soft blues and beiges. Now and then there's a darker accent of raspberry. Lots of white will be seen and some striking blacks.

Note: Prices start at $75 and work upward—swiftly.

Quebec Women Start Campaign To End Inequalities Of Sex

MONTREAL (CP) — Quebec women have placed a big baby in the arms of the provincial government and now are preparing to provide it with nourishment to help it grow.

They are campaigning for an end of "civil incapacity" of women in this province where the civil code, based on that of France, places them, as far as civil rights are concerned, in a category with minors and morons.

This campaign began 40 years ago when a few stout-hearted women, the mother of one of whom wept at the "disgrace" her daughter brought upon the family by speaking at a public meeting, began agitating for women's rights in Quebec.

In the face of criticism, rebuffs and even jeers, they gained a few points, climaxed in 1940 when they received the right to vote in provincial elections—a right they held in Dominion voting since 1921.

Seeking equality with their men folk, the joint committee on the legal status of married women, whose chairman is grey-haired, 50-year-old Mrs. Pierre F. Casgrain of Montreal, approached Quebec's bachelor premier, Maurice Duplessis, who named lawyer Leon Methot as a special one-man commission to study their demands.

Mr. Methot was appointed last October and three weeks ago the women's committee, representing 50,000 Quebec women, presented a memorandum to him.

Quebec women want the right to administer or sell as they please property which was theirs before they were married. Now, unless an agreement between the husband and wife was signed before the marriage, the wife can't do that without her husband's consent.

That is the original French community law, under which everything a wife or husband owned before their marriage becomes community property at the time of marriage. The husband also is bound by it, but is not so seriously affected, although the women are seeking the change for the men too.

Another reform sought is that women should not be left desolate when the husband dies. Under the present law the husband can leave his wife and children without a penny in his will if he so desires.

They don't expect action at the present session of the Quebec Legislature because they don't think Mr. Ethot will have his report prepared in time.

In the meantime they are campaigning. Copies of their brief are being sent to various organizations. Members of the League for Women's Rights are touring the province making speeches. Prominent lawyers and jurists are assisting them with radio addresses.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: A few years ago my husband had an affair with another woman, but instead of sitting down and letting her take him from me I fought for him because I love him, and because I knew that deep down in his heart he loved me. We had two adorable children.

Well, I won out. We are happy again and I never even refer to the past. Don't you think I would have been a fool to sit by and let another woman take him from me?

A FRIEND

Answer: I do, indeed, and I never cease to wonder at the lack of good, hard, horse sense that so many women display in dealing with this problem of the philandering husband.

Of course, if a man is a libertine, or if he has ceased to love his wife and cares nothing for his children, there is nothing the wife can do except to swallow her bitter pill. But the average husband who has a little fling doesn't belong in this class. As a general thing, he is a man who has just gotten fed up with domesticity and who wants a little change.

His wife has ceased to try to make herself attractive to him, and here comes along some husband-snatcher who flatters and cajoles him into thinking he is a boy again; so he falls for her. But it is a purely temporary affair that he will get over as he would an attack of the mumps, if his wife knows how to handle the situation.

But she doesn't. Instead of getting a new hair-do and some good clothes and begin handing out to the errant spouse a line of jelly that makes the other woman's sound like a real lack of appreciation, she becomes a sodden mass of tears and reproaches about how she has given the best years of her life to him. She forgets that men hate crying women, and no man wants to go back to a home that is just a wailing wall, or enjoys being made to feel like a heel.

The children are always the trump card that is in the wife's hands that will win a husband back again, nine times out of ten, if she will only play it instead of handing it over to her adversary.

Admit European Women, Says Daughter Of First W.I. Head

STONEY CREEK, Ont. (CP) — Daughter of the first president of a women's institute, Mrs. Gordon D. Conant of Toronto, told a golden jubilee banquet commemorating the founding of the first institute 50 years ago that Canadian women could help relieve distress in Europe by pressing for admission to this country of European girls and women who could work as domestic help and as hospital nurses.

She said that was part of a scheme advocated by National Council of Women.

"Canadian homes at present are suffering from lack of domestic help, one outcome of which is our shortage of voluntary workers and leaders in all our organizations," she said. "Our young mothers are so tied with housework that small families will result, and more population is a crying need of Canada . . .

"Europe is full of desirable female persons who could make good Canadian citizens and would be grateful for the work Canadian women can provide. This action would aid in Europe's displaced persons problems and give us an opportunity to welcome and extend a hand of friendship to those in need."

Clubwomen's News

The bi-monthly meeting of Xi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, was held Monday. After business a cultural program was given by Mrs. Maude Hammond on "Pleasures of Collecting," "The Garden" and "Nature's Landscape." The next meeting will be held March 3 at the clubrooms.

Fairfield W.M.S. — There was a large attendance at the regular meeting of Fairfield United W.M.S. Auxiliary, held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Chapman, 1170 Chapman Street, with Mrs. G. G. Green presiding. A period of silence was observed in memory of Mrs. Jane Piercy and Mrs. Sarah J. Jackson, two highly-esteemed members who recently passed away. The worship period was led by Mrs. W. H. Muncy. Mrs. Green gave a resume of the work carried on by the auxiliary since its inception, 33 years ago, and read the minutes of the first meeting held. Reports of the recent presbyterial meetings were presented by the Misses Bertha Hall and Myra Bradshaw. A life membership certificate and pin were presented to Mrs. E. P. Siddall, Mrs. Green making the presentation in the name of the auxiliary. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the members of Mrs. Clothier's group. The next meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Fields' group.

HOW TO Remove Dandruff COMPLETELY

1. Apply FITCH'S directly from bottle onto the hair and scalp before any water is added. Massage well with hands, making sure shampoo reaches each part of scalp.

2. Add water gradually, continuing to massage. Remove the cleansing lather as it forms. Then continue to add water and massage until no more lather forms.

3. Rinse thoroughly with clear water. Since Fitch's is completely soluble, no after-rinse is required. Set the hair and dry.

4. Finished hairstyle is soft and lovely. No trace of dandruff or dull soap film left to cloud its natural, sparkling highlights.

Fitch's Dandruff Remover Shampoo is the only shampoo made whose guarantee to remove dandruff with the first application has the backing of one of the world's largest insurance firms. Enjoy lustrous, dandruff-free hair! Ask for an economical bottle of Fitch's at your drug counter, or have professional applications at your beauty or barber shop.

After and between Fitch shampoos you can keep your hair shining and manageable by using a few drops of Fitch's Ideal Hair Tonic every day. Fitch's Ideal Hair Tonic is not sticky or greasy, yet it gives your hair that well-groomed look.

Britain Must Win Back Exports To Regain Foundations Of National Life, Says Attlee

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government today warned Britain that "we may never restore the foundations of our national life" unless the country concentrates on providing more fuel, boosting manpower in essential industries, expanding individual production and sharply increasing sales abroad.

In its "Economic Survey for 1947," published today, the government laid down broad rather than detailed plans, and presented Britons with some straight talking on their economic outlook. The survey enunciated government policy on exports and imports, dollars, future targets, coal, power, steel, railroads, shipping, agriculture, building, capital equipment and manpower.

In the white paper tabled in the Commons as the prelude to the economic budget to be submitted later, the government set the 1947 export target at 140 per cent of the 1938 volume, as compared with the 110 to 115 per cent attained by the end of last year and a long-term "prosperity" target of 175 per cent.

BRING IN WORKERS

The white paper called on British labor to abandon arguments against admission of foreign labor, announcing the government's intention to recruit Poles and displaced persons to work in civilian employment in Britain. It also appealed to women to re-enter industry and to the aged to defer retirement.

The plan was to find "at least an additional 100,000 workers from all these sources by the end of 1947." Since foreign labor was only one of the sources, this implied—though the white paper did not say so—that the government did not contemplate large-scale immigration.

The document added that the government had decided against a delay in raising the school-leaving age by even a few months, although this would have given the production system an additional 160,000 workers.

It called for a "great constructive effort by all British people" at "a critical moment in our affairs."

The 1947 import program from the dollar countries would be £1,450,000,000 ($5,800,000,000) or 80 per cent of 1938 as against 70 per cent in 1946. This would be mainly for goods and raw materials, indicating a deficit of £350,000,000 ($1,300,000,000) to be met by borrowing abroad.

Imports of essential food and raw materials were limited by world shortages — imports of tobacco, additional food, gasoline and consumer goods "are determined by what we can afford." Imports of machinery and equipment depended on both, "but normally import is permitted if the machine is of essential importance."

After taking into account reduced expenditures on the armed forces, Germany and relief, as well as other items, the white paper said the adverse balance of £350,000,000 for this year was £100,000,000 less than last year.

Increased exports to the western hemisphere for dollars, close import control, especially of dollar area goods, and an increase of home production in agriculture and in the dollar earning of shipping are urgent needs, the white paper said.

Most of the expansion of exports would have to take place in the second half of this year, it continued.

"Otherwise we shall be faced with the inescapable alternatives of cutting down our essential imports or drawing dangerously fast upon the United States and Canadian credits."

NO COAL EXPORT

It said the biggest expansion would have to be in exports from the engineering, vehicle, chemical and miscellaneous industries, as no coal would go abroad this year and "our exports of steel and cotton textiles will not expand further this year."

Following are the proposed steps to meet the 1947 problems:

Coal — Increase the mining force by 35,000 to 730,000; encourage a higher output per man, with priority to machinery, imports and the plant; industrial conversion to oil, with "drastic measures" to obtain economy in the use of coal.

Electricity—The supply position is likely to become worse in the next few years due to the increased demand and generator shortages. "Drastic steps" will be taken to keep down the non-industrial load.

"The central problem is coal and power, and upon this everything else depends," the white paper said.

CUT STEEL EXPORT

Steel—The precarious balance in this category will be achieved by cutting exports to the minimum, but it is necessary for industry to contribute to the purchase of imports by exports. To prevent upsetting the manpower balance, further expansion of steel-consuming industries will be discouraged in 1947.

Transportation—Railway maintenance arrears must be made good. More ships must be built.

Agriculture—More labor and machinery will be sought, but Britain soon will lose 130,000 German prisoners of war, "half of whom are, in effect, regular workers." Plans for obtaining foreign labor should help.

The policy will be to switch production, as rapidly as the grain position permits, from the production of crops for direct human consumption to the production of livestock, especially pigs and poultry.

Manpower—A prospective labor force of 18,300,000 at the end of 1947 is short of the country's need. Foreign labor will be used. It is hoped these and other steps will raise the total labor force by 100,000. The government wil ask the movement of workers into essential industries, but no compulsion will be used.

Increased Number Want To Go To Sea

An increase in inquiries by young men who want to go deepsea has been noted here by E. Bahr, business agent for the Canadian Seamen's Union in Victoria. However, Mr. Bahr said, there is no demand for inexperienced men.

"There are more than enough experienced seamen to man the ships at present, many of them now beached following sale of the Park ships on which they served. Seamen from Victoria and the rest of Vancouver Island are hired through a union-operated manning pool in Vancouver, Mr. Bahr said.

Among the men making inquiries are those seeking to work a one-way passage to the United Kingdom and other countries, but Mr. Bahr held out little hope for these men as, he said, the union signed on seamen for return trips only.

Harbor Committee Supports Sidney Dredging Request

The city harbor committee has endorsed the plea of the Sidney Board of Trade for dredging of Sidney harbor to allow the new large car ferry to dock there, Ald. W. L. Morgan, committee chairman, said following a meeting Wednesday.

A letter is being sent to the federal authorities in Ottawa asking that the dredging be undertaken which will allow the Chippewa to dock. It was pointed out by the Sidney Board of Trade that the Chippewa can bring 70 cars a trip, and if the harbor were deepened to allow it to dock even in low water, it could make several trips a year, thus bringing a large increase in tourist business to Vancouver Island.

Ald. Morgan said that the recent meeting with Hon. Lionel Chevrier was also discussed and reports received. Wednesday a joint meeting will be held between the city committee and the Chamber of Commerce harbor committee, to discuss a further course of action on needed harbor improvemennts for Victoria.

Theatres Sign Labor Agreement

A collective bargaining agreement has been signed between B.C. Paramount Theatres (Famous Players) and the Theatrical Assistants' Guild, Federal Union No. 252.

George A. Wilkinson, business agent of the guild, announced it was the first collective bargaining agreement of its kind in the Dominion, and was signed after three months of negotiation.

B. H. E. Goult, of the Provincial Department of Labor, was conciliation commissioner. The agreement, in force for one year, provides for a 44-hour work week and a night off a week for usherettes and doormen with an afternoon off in the following week. Other workers will be allowed a night off each week.

The new guild includes cash-assistant cashiers, candy girls, doormen and usherettes of the Royal, Capitol, Dominion and Atlas Theatres. The contract also provides salary increases for every class of worker and nominal increases are provided every three months for nine workers.

Seniority, overtime pay, grievance procedure is also covered in the agreement.

New Tourist Folder

Soon to be distributed by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau are 35,000 new resort folders being published on high-grade paper. The folders describe in detail resorts and tourist centres on the island. They will be the first printed since the war began. They will be the largest of their kind printed.

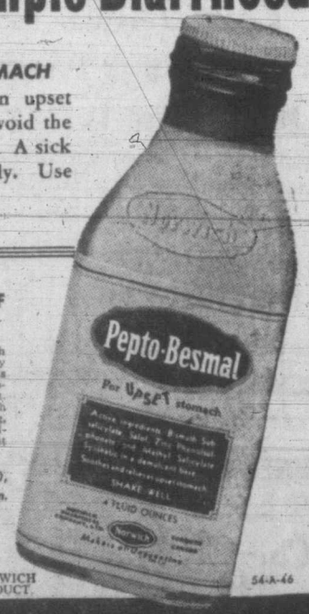
INCREASING THOUSANDS DISCOVER GENTLE, SOOTHING RELIEF

For UPSET Stomach • Nervous Indigestion • Heartburn • After-eating distresses • Simple Diarrhoea

Every day more people discover with happy surprise how gentle Pepto-Besmal is in relieving a stomach that is upset through over-eating or from eating something which makes a stomach "talk back."

NEVER UPSET AN UPSET STOMACH
Never add to the distress of an upset stomach with harsh treatment. Avoid the use of drastic antacids and physics. A sick stomach should be treated gently. Use gentle, soothing Pepto-Besmal.



• HOW YOU SHOULD TREAT AN UPSET STOMACH
Stomachs are tender organs in the body—and when they are upset they should be treated tenderly. Upset stomachs are usually irritated and, therefore, the treatment for upset stomach should be gentle. Pepto-Besmal spreads a soothing coating over the irritated stomach and intestinal walls. Pepto-Besmal quiets an excited stomach.

• WHAT CAUSES UPSET STOMACH?
Common upset stomach is caused by irregular living. Sometimes it may be over-eating, or eating ill-prepared, hasty meals. There may be other causes, too. Car, sea or air sickness, nervous excitement, overtiredness or excesses in smoking and drinking all can be the cause of an upset stomach.

• WHAT PEPTO-BESMAL DOES
Pepto-Besmal spreads a soothing coating over stomach and intestinal walls to quiet and restore peace to an angry stomach. It is effective for such forms of stomach upset as nervous indigestion, heartburn, simple diarrhoea. Pepto-Besmal retards the formation of gas, sweetens sour stomach and relieves nausea.

• WHAT IS PEPTO-BESMAL?
Pepto-Besmal is a stomach-soothing preparation of a high pharmaceutical standard, developed with greatest care to assure relief from common forms of upset stomach. It contains Bismuth Subsalicylate, Salol, Zinc Pheno-sulphonate and Methyl salicylate in a demulcent base. All these are ingredients which your druggist or doctor will tell you are bold and soothing to a stomach and intestinal tissues. These ingredients have been compounded to make a truly pleasant-tasting formula to relieve common forms of upset stomach. Pepto-Besmal is neither a laxative nor an antacid.

• WHY PEPTO-BESMAL MUST BE GOOD
For forty years in the United States, every applicable piece of pharmaceutical research has been incorporated into the compounding of Pepto-Besmal. Spotless laboratories in the home of Pepto-Besmal are making tests constantly to assure uniformity and high standards. Through years of constant improvements, the makers of Pepto-Besmal know that their vast experience and great care in maintaining the highest standards for their product have been factors which have brought relief to millions of upset stomach sufferers.

• WHO CAN USE PEPTO-BESMAL?
Pepto-Besmal is of such a high standard of pharmaceutical excellence that it's use is not restricted to adults. Because of the soothing properties of Pepto-Besmal, children or adults find equal relief from common forms of upset stomach. Pepto-Besmal contains no sugar and, therefore, can be used by diabetics without fear of upsetting the carbohydrate (sugar-making) balance of their systems.

• WHO IS USING PEPTO-BESMAL?
Every year more than ten million bottles of Pepto-Besmal are being used. Whole families have come to rely upon this soothing, pleasant-tasting formula to get comfort from simple forms of upset stomach. The high rate of public acceptance of Pepto-Besmal has made it the fastest growing preparation of its kind. This can be assurance that Pepto-Besmal can and does meet the requirements for which it was compounded.

• A SPECIAL THOUGHT FOR CHILDREN
Too often giving children "something out of a bottle" is a struggle—for children have had many experiences with "nasty" medicines. Pepto-Besmal has been made an inviting pink color—and Pepto-Besmal has a pleasant taste. Pepto-Besmal is safe and effective to quiet upset stomach in children.

• WHO ARE THE MAKERS OF PEPTO-BESMAL?
Pepto-Besmal is made by the Norwich Pharmacal Company. For more than forty years, Norwich has been a leader in its special field of pharmaceutical development. Every employee is a specialist. Through extensive programs of research and tests of products-in-the-making, Pepto-Besmal and other Norwich product are always uniform and of highest standard.

Roy Rogers Dotes On Small Daughters

The two little girls of Roy Rogers, king of the cowboys, starring in Republic's "Under Nevada Skies," which opens at the Dominion Theatre today, have never seen one of their famous father's movies.

Three-year-old Linda Lou and five-year-old Cheryl have, however, seen him performing on a radio program and working on the Republic lot in the San Fernando Valley.

Both Cheryl and Linda Lou prize very much the cowboy boots which Rogers brought them from New York where he broke all existing house records at Madison Square Garden for rodeos.

ROYAL THEATRE

Herbert Marshall has had some pretty tough assignments during his career but he admits that none of them can measure up to the one he has just completed, the role of Somerset Maugham in Darryl F. Zanuck's "The Razor's Edge," which is now at the Royal Theatre.

This is not the first time, according to the actor, that he has played in the famous writer in a film. A few years ago, when "The Moon and Sixpence" was made, he was cast to play Maugham, but the role was a small one compared to his current characterization.

YORK THEATRE

"Tiniest waist in Hollywood" title has been bestowed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, executive designer Irene on petite June Allyson, currently co-starring with Robert Walker in "The Sailor Takes a Wife at the York Theatre.

June's waist measures 19½ inches, a half-inch smaller than Vivien Leigh in her portrayal of Scarlet O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind," which up to now has been considered filmland's "smallest armful."

CAPITOL THEATRE

When Eddie "Rochester" Anderson was assigned a role as Red Skelton's stooge in the new M-G-M comedy-drama, "The Show-Off," now playing at the Capitol Theatre, it marked a distinct turning of the tables for the dusky comic. Several years ago, Red and Rochester were in the same vaudeville troupe and at that time Red was Rochester's straight man!

ATLAS THEATRE

Linda Darnell adds another portrayal to her gallery of alluring vixens with her appearance as Chihuahua, the spitfire cafe singer in John Ford's "My Darling Clementine," currently at the Atlas Theatre. It is said to be on the basis of her performance in this film that Miss Darnell was awarded the title role in "Forever Amber."

PLAZA THEATRE

"Mom and Dad," the new hygiene picture at the Plaza Theatre, brings a worthwhile educational message. Elliot Forbes, famous hygiene commentator, is here in person, too.

Educate On Misuse Of Liquor From Sales Profits, Says Mrs. Rolston

A Royal Commission investigation and education on the one hand and easing of the controls on the other were suggested in the B.C. Legislature Thursday to solve British Columbia's liquor problems.

Mrs. T. J. Rolston, Coalition, Vancouver-Point Grey, advocated a Royal Commission to study the question, hear requests of the people and make recommendations. She also asked that a "real educational program" on the misuse of liquor be arranged for students of six to 16 and financed from liquor control board profits.

J. H. Cates, Coalition member for North Vancouver, said: "As to the liquor question I have no solution except that which I mentioned last year in this House, and that is to make it as easy to get as possible and of good quality."

He also said he would clean up beer parlors and have food served with beer.

"I am opposed to any Royal Commission being appointed, to study this question," he said. "The result would only be a large expense to the government and most likely the findings would be about something that was perfectly obvious to all of us before the investigation began."

Use Liquor Profits To Raise Pensions Says Sam Guthrie

One of the strongest pleas for larger pensions for senior citizens heard during the current session of the B.C. Legislature was presented Thursday by Sam Guthrie, C.C.F. member for Cowichan-Newcastle, who suggested that revenue from the province's liquor profits be used to extend the pension by $10 per month.

Mr. Guthrie answered the question of where would the money for the increase come from by pointing out that old-age pensions in the U.S. ranged from $40 to $50 per month and that in Australia, with only 7,000,000 persons, $93,000,000 was spent annually on pensions, while Canada, with more than 11,000,000 persons, spent only $28,000,000 on pensions. He also drew attention to the Swedish pension plan which pays the equivalent of $66 per month per couple starting at 63.

He noted also high court judges were paid $6,000 annually, and that pensions for former senior officers of the forces in Canada ranged down from $8,960 paid Gen. A. L. G. McNaughton.

Where does the money come from for these persons who may have been very helpful to Canada's war effort but who would not have got far without those who served under them and the men who produced the materials for war? he asked.

Mr. Guthrie also pleaded for a health insurance scheme, tracing government promises from 1933 for initiation of such a scheme. He said there was no reason why a few doctors should hold up such a scheme.

He also suggested that the B.C. Power Commission needed the revenues from the urban centres of Victoria and Vancouver if it were to operate successfully; that it was disgraceful there should be a shortage of houses in British Columbia; that a system should be undertaken to provide water for farmers in his constituency and that the Island Highway from Duncan to Chemainus should be rebuilt.

Proposes Safeguards In Change Of Names

J. H. Cates, Coalition member for North Vancouver, suggested in the B.C. Legislature Thursday that some restrictions on the changing of names should be applied in B.C.

Mr. Cates noted that the owner of a ship must show that the vessel is seaworthy before it is given a new name, so that no ships which might be menaced could be sent to sea.

"To me it seems just as important to see that a good name is not given to someone who is not worthy of it — one who might be a menace to society," he said.

In Ontario, he noted, an applicant to change his name must state whether he has been convicted of a criminal offence, give reasons for the change, and a judge may refuse the application if he is of the opinion that the name the applicant seeks to adopt may cause a mistake, inconvenience or embarassment to another person.

Government Control Of Magazines Urged

Randolph Harding, C.C.F., Kaslo-Slocan, Thursday, advocated that the Provincial Government control magazine material sold in the province.

Mr. Harding suggested in the B.C. Legislature during the Throne Speech debate the control measures to prevent the distribution of salacious literature.

He said it was becoming increasingly apparent that much literature on the news stands is of little educational value and probably a contributing cause to much juvenile delinquency.

While the postmaster has censorship control of literature coming into Canada from outside sources, there is no censorship within Canada, he said.

Mr. Harding also advocated the B.C. Power Commission develop electric power at Watshan Falls; that the franchise be extended provincially to all Canadians; that more attention be paid to the destruction of coarse fish in lakes and streams; that bounties on predatory animals be increased; that roads in his constituency be improved, and that more money be appropriated for cancer and arthritis treatment.

Cowichan Member Pleads For Miners

Sam Guthrie, C.C.F. member for Cowichan-Newcastle, renewed pleas in the B.C. Legislature Thursday for operators of Vancouver Island coal mines abandoned by the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd. Mr. Guthrie has made similar pleas at several previous sessions.

The mines, he contended, had been given to the company in the 1880's for nothing. Abandoned now by the company because they would not show what it considered as an adequate profit, the mines, being worked by others, must pay up to $1.67 a ton to the company and must sell all coal produced to the company.

"Is it fair?" he asked. "It is grossly unfair to pay for coal that would have been left in the mines for all time."

He added that the industrious miners were penalized.

Mr. Guthrie also pleaded on behalf of the miner's union for reform in labor laws for miners.

He said he had no sympathy for the Canadian Collieries because it lacked miners since in the past it had driven fine miners off Vancouver Island for union activities.

Suggests Treatment For Sex Offenders

Amendment of the Criminal Code to provide longer jail sentences for persons convicted of sex offences, with some kind of treatment while they are imprisoned, was suggested in the B. C. Legislature Thursday by J. H. Cates, Coalition, North Vancouver.

"Surely with all the advancement in medicine something is known of how these degenerates should be dealt with," he said.

Mr. Cates also urged establishment of a medical faculty at the University of B.C.; improvement of roads in his constituency; re-establishment of the Borstal plan for youthful offenders; more grants for the Game Commission.

Steamship Service Aired In Legislature

Pleas of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce for improvement in the steamship connections between Vancouver Island and the Mainland were submitted to the B.C. Legislature Thursday by Sam Guthrie, C.C.F. member for Cowichan-Newcastle.

He said often there was only standing room on the ships linking Victoria and Nanaimo with Vancouver. He suggested the monopoly should be investigated to determine if some improvement were possible.

Hopes Municipalities Get Gas Revenue

Revenue from the increase of the Provincial Government revenue from gasoline taxes should be turned over to municipalities on a pro rata basis for road improvement, Mrs. T. J. Rolston, Coalition member for Vancouver-Point Grey, said in the B.C. Legislature Thursday.

Mrs. Rolston suggested the municipalities might be able to do more with the revenue than the Provincial Government, which will allocate the revenue for hard-surfacing the roads.

The Goldenberg Report she described as being so mild "it could have been written by our own minister of finance." She pleaded for a better deal for Vancouver.

Members Ignored Says Woman M.L.A.

Fears that members of the legislative assembly were becoming no more than window-dressers for the government's policies were expressed in the B.C. Legislature Thursday by Mrs. T. J. Rolston, Coalition, Vancouver-Point Grey.

Noting that the government had announced plans for implementation of the Goldenberg Report, establishment of a Borstal system, and old age pensions before the Legislature opened, Mrs. Rolston, wondered what the constituents would think.

Mrs. Rolston also suggested that pensioners who are willing and able should be able to defer receiving their allowance until 75 if they wished to work and then receive the added benefit.

She suggested that a nurses training school should be established so that the course could be completed in two instead of the present three years.

The real value of the home should be stressed more in the school, she said, and the passages of Biblical reading for the schools revised. She advocated also milk sold in stores should be a cent cheaper than that delivered to homes.

12,552 Veterans In Fulltime Farming

A total of 22,492 veterans and their families, exclusive of 347 Indians now out of uniform on Indian Reserves, had been approved for establishment on farms and small holdings under the Veterans' Land Act up to end of last year, according to Rt. Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, in a review of operations under the act.

Fulltime farming was the most important phase of the operations, with 12,552 approved establishments on farms, while 9,567 veterans took small holdings.

Average size of a fulltime farm was 198 acres and small holdings 4.75 acres.

Lester Patrick, Cyclone Taylor Among Hockey Greats Named For Hall Of Fame

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—The names of seven more hockey greats were announced today as unanimously selected for membership in Kingston's international hockey Hall of Fame. These brought the total to 33, including various hockey executives.

The new names: Fred (Cyclone) Taylor, native of Listowel, Ont., former Ontario amateur star, and Pacific Coast professional stand-out, now living in Vancouver.

Eddie Shore, native of Qu'Appelle, Sask., perhaps the greatest defenceman in National Hockey League history with the Boston Bruins, now managing American minor league teams.

Frank Nighbor, native of Pembroke, Ont., one of the greatest centres of the game in his days with the old Ottawa Senators of the fledgling N.H.L.

Aurel Joliat, for 16 seasons left winger of the old Montreal Canadiens, worthy teammate of the late, great Howie Morenz.

Russel Bowie, famous amateur star with the Montreal Victorias ending in 1907. Now living in Montreal.

Lester Patrick, native of Drummondville, Ont., great player in his youth, astute manager in recent years, of New York Rangers of the N.H.L.

Capt. James Sutherland, Kingston, hockey player of generations gone who for many years has had a large voice in organized hockey; former president of the O.H.A., former president of the C.A.H.A.

Whole articles could be written about each of the new hockey immortals, and have been done on several of them.

But we'll just take one of the list now. That's Eddie Shore, the most applauded, and most booed player in N.H.L. history. Eddie dominated hockey's big time in his playing days as much as ever Babe Ruth dominated baseball.

He still holds the N.H.L. record for defencemen with 263 scoring points in his first 10 years. He was voted to the N.H.L. all-star team for seven seasons.

Detroit Blanks Boston To Quit N.H.L. Cellar

While the leaders marked time, Detroit Red Wings shut out Boston Bruins 3 to 0 at Detroit in Thursdays only National League game. Detroit thus climbed out of the cellar position they had jointly occupied with Chicago Black Hawks.

The top standings promised to remain much as they are through the week-end battles. On Saturday, the New York Rangers are at Toronto, and Montreal Canadiens are at Detroit. On Sunday, the Leafs and Canadiens battle at Montreal, while Detroit goes to New York and Boston Bruins are at Chicago.

With Canadiens enjoying a seven-point lead over Leafs, the Toronto team that's lost much ground lately are readying for a tough schedule of five games in eight days. Five weeks ago, Leafs were leading the league with a nine-point margin over Canadiens. Injuries hit them and Leafs returned from a disastrous road trip to find themselves well back of the Habitants.

Whether they can ever catch up is in the lap of the gods.

Leafs at least are 12 points ahead of the third-place Rangers, and that won't mean a thing when those two teams tangle Saturday night at Toronto. Rangers, particularly goalie Chuck Rayner, have been a thorn in the Toronto team's side for many weeks.

At Detroit last night the Red Wings scored once in each period—Quackenbush, Lindsay and Roy Conacher doing the honors—as 11,782 fans saw the Bruins shut out. It was Harry Lumley's second shut-out of the season, and it was the second in two nights for Bruins, who lost 6 to 0 to Rangers Wednesday.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Detroit, Quackenbush (Howe, Abel), 11.39. Penalties—Flamon, McCaig.

Second period—2, Detroit, Lindsay (J. Conacher, R. Conacher), 16.19. Penalty—McGill.

Third period—3, Detroit, R. Conacher, 5.47. Penalties—None.

Burns' 3 Goals Feature Oak Bay High Soccer Win

Scoring their second victory this week, Oak Bay High School Whites took over top spot in the junior section of the Interhigh Soccer League yesterday afternoon by downing Victoria High Golds 6 to 2.

Oak Bay were much the better team and dominated most of the play. Donald, Vic High goalie made a beautiful stop of a hard shot taken at close range as Bays started pressing early. It was not till the 20-minute mark that they opened the scoring. Left-inside Jimmy Burns sagged the hemp on a well-labeled shot that whizzed over Donald's head. Five minutes later the same player scored again as a result of a corner. Second-half was four minutes old when Stan Heal put the ball in the empty net, giving Whites a 3 to 0 lead. Two minutes later, Whites appeared to be headed on a rampage as Hugh Johnston put them four up. At the eight-minute mark, however, Golds finally got on the score sheet with Bob Hunt banging home a penalty shot rebound. Jimmy Burns counted his third for winners halfway through and five minutes later, Johnny Johnson lobbed in a beauty from the right wing to make it 6 to 1. A minute from time, Evans scored the final goal of the game for Golds, banging in his own penalty shot rebound. Nelson Crisp played a steady game in nets for Whites.

PLAY TO DRAW

At Mount View High, the home squad engaged Oak Bay Greens in a two-all draw. Again Oak Bay had the better team but luck was against them. Marvin Tate gave Mount View a 1 to 0 lead at the 10-minute mark, the only goal in the first half. Murray Saunders of Greens forced goalie Milligan to make a diving save halfway through the first as Bays pressed hard for the equalizer. Saunders was finally rewarded early in the second session. Taylor was nicked for a penalty, and on the resultant spot kick, Ross Noel gave Bays a 2 to 1 lead. In the dying seconds of the contest, Arthur Manson booted home the trying marker. Oak Bay lads had the advantage in play throughout and their forward line worked well together.

Third match also ended in a draw, Vic High Blacks and Mount Douglas each netting three times. Star for the city team was Bob Rowe who scored his second goal of the match a minute from time to give Black's a draw. Vic High led 2 to 0 at the close of the first-half on goals by George Rapanos and Rowe, but the home squad banged in three straight in the second before Rowe's timely counter. Baker, Cornish and Curry were Mount Douglas' marksmen. With seconds to go, Robb of Blacks hit the post on a penalty boot.

Baker's 31 Points Mark Hornet's Win Over Seattle Squad

SEATTLE (AP)—Norm Baker, Vancouver Hornet's "one-man-gang," fired 31 points through the hoop last night to lead the Canadian quintette to a hard fought 57 to 55 win over the Seattle Blue Devils in a pro cage league contest.

The Baker splurge sent the victors out in front for the first time minutes before the end of the contest but the score seesawed until the final seconds when Art Chapman, Hornet playing manager, couldn't find anyone to pass to and flipped in an uncanny one-hander to take a 56 to 55 lead. Baker dropped in a free throw with one second to go to close out the scoring, and set a new high scoring mark in Seattle play.

With Seattle taking an early lead which mounted to 19 to 3, Baker started his scoring drive and his team climbed to trail only 34 to 23 at halftime.

The score was deadlocked later at 50 to 50 and 52 to 52 on Baker's point-making and when Frank Watson, Seattle forward, put Seattle ahead again 54 to 52, Baker again tied it up.

Intermediate Soccer

Any hopes Victoria intermediate soccer teams had of entering the Province and Jackson Cup series were squashed today by a ruling received from officials of the British Columbia body. The provincial executive announced that instead of the intermediate teams playing against the senior elevens in postseason games, a special playoff will be held between intermediate teams only, with the winner to be named B.C. champion.

Saturday's games in the Intermediate League will bring together Oak Bay and Saanich Indians at Beacon Hill Park and Saanich Thistles and Navy at Hampton Park, with both contests starting at 2.30.

By PETE SALLAWAY

SEVERE criticism of the play of Victoria's Crimson Tide and indictment of rugby as it is played here today is contained in a letter from H. L. Robinson, a former player and now a keen follower of the sport. Robinson also takes a crack at what he considers poor management on the part of those officials in charge of the Victoria team and points out remedies which he claims are obvious to all who know rugby.

AS ROBINSON has gone at great length it would be impossible to publish his entire letter and I will give the important facts. He writes: "I was under the impression that the McKechnie Cup games had been scheduled for the latter part of the season in order to present a better trained team, both in physical condition and as a combined whole. There was certainly no evidence of this, most particularly among the Victoria forwards. They outweighed the Vancouver pack considerably but could not take advantage of this in the tight scrums nor could they wheel cleanly when they got possession. The scrum had never been taught to wheel, at least it never attempted to do so. It might have been that the injury to the scrum half left it without his essential guiding voice but the fact does remain. Except when the ball was kicked to touch, no advantage resulted from any of the numerous free kicks awarded Victoria. The forwards were woefully weak in following up on kicks. They must be organized in these cases; three who can tackle must be up with the kick and must be nominated before the game, the remainder a few yards behind to take advantage of defence errors, or to quickly form their loose scrums behind the tackled player and get the ball back.

THE VANCOUVER side was a poor one being no better organized than Victoria and could and should have been beaten by 30 points by ony one of a dozen Victoria teams of the past I could name. But it was in condition, and, in spite of the lack of coherence as a side, it put up a bustling aggressive type of game and would have won easily with a bit more polish and co-ordination."

ROBINSON comes up with praise for some Victoria players and a panning for others. "McKeachie is safe and a strong accurate kicker and does not fluster. But he is not fast and must have his steps before getting a kick away. The backs, including the standoff half as one of them, were bad, both individually and as an attacking force. I do not include Gibbs or Chungranes in this structure. In my opinion Chungranes should have been on the wing. On the other hand Gibbs was misplaced in a wing position. Even if he had received the ball he would have been helpless in view of the diagonal and crossfield running by his centres. The same applies to the other wing. Ransom was quite impossible at standoff half.

"He was invariably out of position on the tight scrums, forcing the scrum half to heave the ball from 10 to 15 yards to reach him. Gornall played his usual hard game and was the only real forward on the side. But he is team captain and presumably to blame for the lack of organization.

THE WORK of the two referees was excellent. I heard criticism that there was too much whistle blowing and too many penalties awarded. It is high time that a few games be handled in this way if the standard of play is ever to improve. I saw more offside play, interference and also heard more chat from the Vancouver side than one ought to see or hear in six games. And it was the players, not the referees who spoiled the game for the spectators."

United With Shuffled Line-up Faces Saints

When Victoria United takes the field tomorrow afternoon for a Coast League soccer match against Vancouver St. Andrews the local line-up will be considerably switched. Of most importance will be the appearance of Chuch Restell at centre-forward. Tommy Druce who has been in the position during most of the season will move back to right full-back. Game time is 2.30.

Owing to the fact that Joe Travis, captain of the United and the club's regular left half, is sitting out a six weeks suspension, it has been necessary to move Murray Speller back on the intermediate line from inside right. His position will be handled by Charlie Musgrave, member of Spencer's club in the Wednesday League. At outside right will be Earle Barnswell, replacing Denny Shubrook. On the other side of the forward line George Payne will be at inside left and Ab Travis on the right wing. Bobby Bell, Shubrook, Alf Jenkins and Nick Sage will be on the reserve list.

In their last meeting the Saints on the mainland the United came through with a smashing 7 to 2 victory. Last week-end St. Saviours nosed out Nanaimo. United are still undefeated in the second half of the league and will be out tomorrow to retain their fine record.

Saints will be represented by their strongest side. Eric Camp will be in goal with McKibbon and Kenning as backs. On the half line will be Jimmy Milstead, Cowan, Sawyer or Beese. The forward line will be composed of Jankovich, Tommy Milstead, Ray Burgess, Brian Philly and Denny Rogers.

Cirimele Optioned To Ventura Club

Frankie Cirimele, relief infielder and outfielder with the Victoria Athletics last season, has been optioned to the Ventura Club of the California League, a class C circuit, it was announced today by business manager Reg Patterson.

At the same time Patterson announced that outfielder Bob Cherry has been assigned to Denver of the Western League. The signed contract of catcher Joe Fontaine has been received. Fontaine worked a couple of games for the A's last season before being optioned to Twin Falls of the Pioneer League.

Vic High Hoopers In Action Tonight

Lawrence Wallace's Victoria High School cage team holds the spotlight at the local gym tonight as they play host to John Shaw High School of Nanaimo in an exhibition game at 8.45. The game will be preceded by a girls' game between the Vic High senior team and the John Shaw girls at 7.30, while a special attraction will be the between-games appearance of the High School drum majorettes.

Two teams of the Victoria and District Basketball league will travel to up-island points tonight to take part in island playoff battles. Probably commanding the most interest will be the Eagles' visit to Duncan where the birdmen will clash with Duncan Zeniths in the second game of their total-point series for lower island intermediate A honors. Duncan captured the first tussle by a score of 46 to 44 Wednesday night and will have the advantage of the more familar surroundings of the Duncan Agricultural Hall for tonight's match.

Ladysmith midgets will be hosts to the Canadian Legion five in the other playoff game scheduled tonight. This is the first game of a home-and-home series.

Girls' Basketball Tourney Tomorrow

Victoria High School will be the scene of a girls' basketball tournament tomorrow, starting at 10 and running through until approximately 4.15, when seven of the leading girls' teams of the lower island will compete for the Hocking Cup, emblematic of the girls' school championship.

Victoria High will be cast in the role of defending champions, while entries have also been received from St. Margarets, Strathcona Lodge, Oak Bay High, Normal School, Mount Douglas and Victoria College.

Games in the round robin tournament will be played in five-minute halves with two points awarded for a win and one point for a draw. Girls' rules will prevail during the tournament.

Popham, Andrews, Oakley Will Start In Crimson Tide Line-up

Daryl Popham, Joe Andrews and Roger Oakley have been added to the starting line-up of the Crimson Tide which will travel to Vancouver tonight for their McKechnie Cup tilt against unbeaten Varsity at Varsity Stadium tomorrow afternoon, it was announced last night.

Popham, speedy wing of the J.B.A.A. fifteen, will replace Harry Olsen on the wing for the Reps, and his addition to the line-up should provide the locals with extra offensive and defensive strength. Joe Andrews, playing coach of the Bays and Oakley, will replace Bill Van Druten and Mike Carley in the scrum. Van Druten was injured in the first cup game and will probably miss tomorrow's tilt, while Carley has been unable to attend practice sessions this week and will be used as a spare, along with Olsen.

Dick Chungranes will replace Fred Ranson at stand-off half with the latter moving to the wing. Gibbs and Cullin will be at insides and coach Campbell Forbes believes that this change will add more power to the attack. Tom McKeachie will remain at the fullback spot with Ritchie Williams at scrum half and Bill Gornall, Bob Mair, Doug Homer-Dixon, Cliff Denham, Albie Williams and Doug Bray as forwards.

Victoria definitely needs a victory over the powerful student team if they wish to continue in the race for the McKechnie Cup as the Varsity fifteen trounced Vancouver in their first cup game, and are determined to retain possession of the coveted silverware.

Joe Louis Punches Arturo Godoy Groggy

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—With a crowd of 30,000 shouting "take it easy, Joe" heavyweight champion Joe Louis punched Arturo Godoy groggy in a six-round boxing exhibition last night. Louis weighed 207 to 198 for Godoy, appearing in his native country for the first time since 1944.

Map Display To Run For Second Week

The provincial lands department display of maps and map-making processes, in the rotunda of the Parliament Buildings, will continue for at least a second week, so great has been the interest in the exhibition.

Arranged by the geographic survey branch the display shows the work of both aerial and ground surveyors, and the maps which result from their work. The instruments used by these surveyors are also displayed, along with ancient maps on the Pacific coast.

The provincial education department, seeing in the display valuable information for students, has suggested the school principals arrange to have students visit the Parliament Buildings to study the exhibition. Already several schools have arranged this and others are completing arrangements, including Victoria Normal School which is scheduled to examine the display Saturday morning.

From 200 to 300 persons a day have been seeing the display, George Melrose, deputy minister of lands, estimated.

Ready for fun when the day's work is over?

WHY NOT TRY THIS?

Don't envy those who are fresh and vital when the evening begins. Do as thousands of smart people are doing — drink a cup of Ovaltine night and morning.

For Ovaltine does three things to help you feel fresh and vital all day through:

First, taken warm at bedtime, it fosters sound refreshing sleep, without drugs.

Second, it supplies essential food elements to rebuild vitality.

Third, it also furnishes important vitamins and minerals in a delicious, more natural way for all-round health and vigour.

So why not start using Ovaltine regularly for morning freshness and buoyant days.

Raise In B.C. Aid For V.O.N. Nurses Asked Of Cabinet

The B.C. Branches of the Victorian Order of Nurses today asked the provincial cabinet to increase by $50 annual grant for each nurse.

At present the government grants $100 per year for each nurse provided by the service. The service requested that government increase its grant to $150 to take care of the increased services provided by the V.O.N.

The delegation of eight women and two men was introduced to the cabinet by Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A. for Victoria.

The V.O.N. at present operates eight branches in the province with a total staff of 40 nurses. The staff is composed of specially trained registered nurses who care for the sick in their homes on a visit basis. Some branches also provide additional services such as school work, baby clinics.

In 1946 16,627 patients received 97,590 visits, compared with 15,196 patients and 85,520 visits during 1945.

"The increase in Victorian Order service in the province of British Columbia might be attributed to population increases," said the delegation's brief. "Because of population increases, hospital facilities are overtaxed and facilities for institutional care of the chronically ill are inadequate.

"The V.O.N. is being called upon to give care to more patients on return from hospital and to more of the chronically ill in their homes. Because of the increase in a younger population more demands are being made for prenatal and postnatal services."

In 1946, the brief said, 60 per cent of the visits by the V.O.N. were free.

Members of the delegation were Mrs. H. W. Godwin, representing Burnaby and Elphinstone; Mrs. N. T. Brown, North Vancouver; Mrs. H. Ostrom, West Vancouver; F. J. Burd, Vancouver; J. T. Brown, Survey; Mrs. George Hall, representing Trail; and Mrs. H. B. Bate, Mrs. N. A. Yarrow, Mrs. George Hall and Mrs. J. W. Wilson, representing Victoria.

Used Crankcase Oil Disposal Problem

Disposing of used crankcase oil, dumped in the sump pits by garages in town, is proving a problem.

P. R. Lyall, 54 Obed Avenue, who is in the service station maintenance business, has written the City Council suggesting that the garbage department instal some type of tank so that the oil could be burned in the incinerator with the rest of the garbage that is being burned daily.

He said he had taken the problem up with Fire Chief Joseph Raymond, and the fire chief thought it would be a good idea as the oil is a fire hazard in the city.

Mr. Lyall reported that at present he pumps the used oil out of the sumps in 45 gallon containers and disposes of it as best he can. In the winter months this runs to 400 gallons a month, but is less in summer as garages give it to customers to hold down dust in their driveways.

Kinsmen Observe 21st Anniversary

The 27th anniversary of the Kinsmen Clubs in Canada and the 21st anniversary of the local organization were celebrated at a dinner meeting Thursday evening.

Ainslie Helmecken, president during the charter year, presented the club with a birthday cake. Messages were received from national officers, including one from Hal Rogers, founder of the Kinsmen Clubs in Canada and president of the National Council of Service Clubs.

It was reported that during the five years of war the Kinsmen Clubs collected for the Milk for Britain fund, a total of 3,500,000 pounds of dried milk, which provided 288,000,000 servings of milk to British children.

Robert Hoard, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting.

Dr. Leroy Sherry Heads Surgeons

The 60 members of the Pacific Coast Surgical Association attending their 18th annual convention today held their last session at the Empress Hotel today.

New president of the association is Dr. Leroy B. Sherry, Pasadena, Calif., who takes office from retiring president, Dr. H. D. Dudley, Seattle.

Following conclusion of the sessions here, the members leave by ferry for Seattle to continue to their homes in the Pacific Northwest.

Lectures here included discussions on surgical technique and methods employed in medicine. A number of the talks dealt with knowledge gained during the war years. Other talks were based on the wide experience gained by doctors over years of practice.

The retiring president, Dr. Dudley said great advancement had been made in speeding up the rehabilitation of amputee cases owing to the development of newly-devised artificial limbs.

Speakers at this morning's session were Dr. Lawrence Chaffin, Dr. Clarence J. Berne, Dr. Joel V. Baker, Dr. Dean B. Seabrook, Dr. Brien T. King and Dr. Robertson Ward.

Members of the City Council have been invited to the launching of the first Tuna clipper built by Marine Services and Sales Ltd., Saturday at 2.30.

Bludgeoning Of Local Chinese Not Linked With 'Tong War'

"Still unconscious, but appears to be holding his own," was the report from Royal Jubilee Hospital today as the condition of Yuen Gin Hing, 36-year-old Chinese fruit and vegetable vendor, who was found with his face and head brutally battered Wednesday night at 826 Caledonia Ave.

His condition is described as hovering between life and death.

In the meantime, Inspector of Detectives Henry Jarvis' plainclothes department of the city police is pressing investigations into the crime. Up to a late hour today, however, they were no nearer a solution. Chinese friends have been closely questioned.

Hing was found at the rear of his home by his co-occupant, Tom Gun, another vendor. Suggestions that it might be a recurrence of a "Tong war" are denied in Chinatown. There is some talk in the Chinese quarter of raising a large sum as a reward for the capture of the culprit if the man dies.

In spite of the fact $44 was found in Hing's overalls' pocket, police are not discounting a robbery motive. Chinese peddlers are known to frequently carry large sums on their persons.

By-law To Regulate Bakeries

A by-law for the regulation of the making and selling of all bakery products will be presented to the next meeting of the City Council by the Union Board of Health, Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman, said today following a meeting.

Under the proposed by-law no license will be issued to any bakeshop until the medical health officer has certified that the premises meet with the requirements of the by-law.

After the by-law is in effect no bakery products, unless adequately packaged, may be placed on counters where they may be handled by the public. Also stocks of cream, custard filling or other perishable materials must be adequately refrigerated.

In the case of bakery products being delivered, no return for resale is to be permitted in future.

In addition it is set out that no person shall smoke while preparing or handling bakery products, no dogs are to be permitted on the premises, and all bakeshops are to be kept free of rats, cockroaches and other vermin.

Any person contravening the by-law may be fined up to $50.

764 New Cars In B.C. Last Month

New cars for which licenses were issued by the Motor Vehicle Branch of the B.C. police during January totaled 764, it was reported today. This compared with only 58 registered in the first month of 1946.

The difference between the number of new motorcycles registered in January of last year and the corresponding month of this year was not so great. Last year there were 38 new machines and this year 52.

Issuing of drivers' licenses did not keep the police as busy this January, 812 being issued last month and 1,036 in January of last year.

Drivers' examinations were given 1,100 applicants in the opening month of 1947. The number for January, 1946, was 1,448.

In the registration of new commercial vehicles the comparison was 404 this year to 126 for January of last year.

Total number of motor vehicles registered during the year ending Jan. 31 last was 145,935 compared with 131,756 for the previous corresponding period. The number of commercial vehicles registered during the year was 37,754, while the number for the previous year was 32,665.

Cabinet Hears Case Of B.C. Women For Greater Equality

The Provincial Council of Women, in a brief presented to the B.C. cabinet today, asked that a system of compulsory third party liability insurance for all owners of motor vehicles be instrumented by the province.

An old-age pension of $50, starting for women of 60 and men at 65 was urged by the delegation which also asked that the "means" test be abolished.

The delegation also asked the provincial government to urge the federal government to set up a committee to study that section of the Criminal Code dealing with salacious literature with a view to broadening it "and bringing it up to date in order that this menace to the morals of our youth may be more efficiently dealt with."

Six sections of the brief dealt with the elimination of inequalities and inequities in the laws respecting married women.

The delegation asked:

1. Amendment of the Married Women's Property Act of B.C. to prevent a wife from automatically becoming a partner in business with her husband.

2. Amendment of the Homestead Act to provide that the actual home of the husband and wife shall be the "homestead" without the necessity of it being so registered by the husband.

3. That a wife "may maintain any action with respect to her husband that a husband may maintain with respect to his wife" for alienation of affections.

4. Amendment of Statute of Limitations to "remove the disability existing with respect to married women under the above act—to put her on the same footing as unmarried women and men before the law."

5. Amendment of the Married Women's Property Act of B.C. to make impossible for a husband to be sued or made liable for his wife's torts.

6. That suitable legislation be passed by the federal government providing that a married woman shall be as free to acquire, maintain and change her domicile as a man.

Mrs. Alfred Carmichael headed the delegation.

Other members were: Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, corresponding secretary, Victoria; Mrs. J. A. Mahood, recording secretary - treasurer, Chilliwack; Mrs. H. V. Collins, second vice-president, North Vancouver; Mrs. T. Bingham, past president, Vancouver; Mrs. H. P. Young and Mrs. I. Z. Conboy, Chilliwack; Mrs. H. Hopgood, Kamloops; Mrs. E. W. Cowie and Mrs. I. Foster, Nanaimo; Mrs. E. R. Beale, New Westminster; Mrs. F. J. Thomson and Mrs. F. J. Hollie, Vancouver; Mrs. J. R. Smith, West Vancouver, and Mrs. F. H. Parsons, Victoria.

'Don't Blame Father,' Says Son In Court

Charles Hugh Thompson, a young Victoria man, pleaded guilty to nine of charges incurring indebtedness by false pretences and one charge of obtaining goods by false pretences, in City Police Court this morning and was remanded to tomorrow by Magistrate Henry C. Hall for sentence.

Evidence was given that he procured $500 worth of goods—suitcases, shoes, watches, a camera and film, clothing, a radio and a hat—on nine counts from the Hudson's Bay Company by false pretences by saying he had an account with the company whereas he did not, and one charge of presenting a worthless cheque for goods at Harry Webb's clothing store at 1201 Douglas Street.

Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison read a list of the articles procured by accused which has been sold to private individuals.

When asked by Magistrate Hall if he had anything to say, Thompson said he did not want blame for his actions to be thrown on his father.

"He has done his very best to bring me up the right way—but it just doesn't seem to have done any good," he said. "Please tell the people who lost goods through me, that when I get out I will make restitution."

Court Dismisses Desertion Case

"The charge of desertion is dismissed," commented Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court this morning after he had heard a man accused under the Deserted Wives' Maintenance Act say that his wife had failed to agree to his plan of patching up their differences at a meeting earlier suggested by the magistrate.

Magistrate Hall said "yours was only a family quarrel which occurs in almost every family. The man tried to get back with you by agreement, but you have refused. This is not desertion. The charge against the man is dismissed."

A building permit has been issued to R. Gillespie to build a 4-room house at 1120 Finlayson Avenue costing $5,400.

Town Topics

Victoria Golf Club and Hickman Tye Hardware Co. Ltd., have both written the City Council asking that daylight saving time again be instituted during the summer months.

The city street lighting employees have requested a 12½ per cent wage increase, Ald. F. C. Mulliner, chairman of the street lighting committee, said following a meeting Thursday.

Elimination of discrimination against Chinese immigrants and placing them on a basis of equality with other nationals, who reside in Canada, has been urged by Robert Mezger, Victoria L.P.P. organizer, in letters to Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

A meeting will be held at the City Hall at 8 Friday evening to discuss the formation of local branches of the Community Planning Association of Canada, B.C. division. Alan H. Armstrong, secretary-treasurer of the national Association, Ottawa, will speak.

Victor W. Odlum, former Canadian Minister to China, will speak on China at a luncheon of the Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel next Wednesday, while Hubert S. Banner, who spent 12 years in British Malaya, will give an address on that country at a meeting of the club on Monday, March 3.

The Union Board of Health will ask the public works department to clean up an accumulation of garbage and rubbish which has been dumped on the original site of Tyee Road at the intersection of Bay Street and Tyee Road, Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman, said following a meeting today. The rubbish must be cleaned up before it becomes a health menace, he said.

The zoning board of appeal approved an application on the part of a World War I veteran to add an extra room to his house, to accommodate his daughter and her husband, both veterans of World War II, on condition that the registered owner of the property approved, a workshed be removed from the rear of the lot, and the new addition is not more than eight feet from the existing front line of the dwelling.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall took evidence of character witnesses and a good war record into consideration in city police court when he suspended sentence on a young man, in court for the first time in his life, for stealing a quantity of gasoline from a car under the value of $25. However, he placed the defendant on a bond of $500 to ensure his good behavior for six months.

Thieves Loot Safe

A total of $90 in 25 and 50-cent pieces and an unknown amount in bills was stolen by thieves who broke into J. Dalziel's Box Factory, 2800 Bridge Street, late last night and cracked the office safe.

Constable N. T. Galbraith made the discovery of the entry and at 12.40 this morning telephoned to the station.

Inspector Harry Mercer and Sgt. Thomas Bannister found entrance was gained by an upstairs door in the shingle mill. The safe was opened by knocking off the dial and punching out the tumblers.

Mr. Dalziel was able to report the $90 in silver taken as definite, but was unable to say how much the roll of bills aggregated until he had consulted his accountant.

Hunting Dog Mauled But Cougars Killed

NANAIMO (CP)—Two weeks ago one of Game Warden Jimmy Dewar's prize cougar hunting dogs was mauled by a panther and died. It was the famous "lead" dog "Dot," and its demise left lead honor to "Dude," a trainer brother in the canine family. On Thursday, while entering a cougar den at Rush Creek, Nanaimo Lakes, the second dog was badly mauled and is receiving medical treatment here.

The cougar, which inflicted six deep gashes about "Dude's" head, was guarding three panther kittens. The game warden killed the mother cougar and her three young and rushed his dog to town for first aid.

On the way they were handed an 18-pound dead specimen of the very rare trumpeter swan, found by Oscar Foshum, trapper of the region. The big bird's crop was full of lead shot, picked up while feeding. The carcass has been sent to the provincial laboratory at Victoria for examination.

Mayor Percy George and Mrs. George will attend the conference banquet of the Girls' Hi-Y Clubs March 1 at Memorial Hall. Dr. J. M. Ewing will be the speaker. The conference will be held Feb. 28 to March 2.

City Workers Now Approve By-Law

Employee opposition to the draft civic service by-law has evaporated, according to C. M. Parrott, president of the City Hall Employees' Association, following a meeting Thursday evening.

The by-law has received second reading by the City Council and is now tabled to give aldermen a chance to study its 29 pages and propose possible amendments.

At Thursday evening's meeting of the employees, the second special meeting to consider the by-law, several minor amendments were suggested and these will be presented to Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the committee, Mr. Parrott said.

The proposed new salary schedule, which it is rumored will give an average increase in pay of 19 per cent to City Hall staff, has not yet been considered by the association nor the City Council. There was no discussion on salaries at Thursday's meeting, Mr. Parrott said.

One group within the association had been opposing the by-law, preferring to negotiate a union agreement with the city rather than to continue to be regulated by an aldermanic committee under a by-law.

W. M. Black, president of the Joint Council of Public Employees, and spokesman for the three-man bargaining committee which was appointed by the organization some time ago was present at the meeting. Other members of the bargaining committee are John Abbott and W. G. Frampton.

R. Wall, 2709 Burdick Street, reported to city police yesterday, that someone had entered the house he is building at 120 Oliver Street Wednesday night and splashed paint all over the front room.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. W. R. Clarkson and family wishes to thank Dr. Wride and the nurses of the Jubilee Hospital for their kind attention to Mr. W. R. Clarkson in his last illness; also to friends and neighbors and the staff of the City Hall for their beautiful floral tributes and kind words of sympathy in their sad bereavement.

Mr. W. H. Groom and daughter wish to express their thanks for the many loving messages and beautiful flowers during the recent bereavement in the loss of a very dear wife and mother.

IN MEMORIAM

WIGLEY—In memory of Mrs. C. T. L. Wigley, who passed away Feb. 21, 1946.

In all the tongues of all the world
There is one sacred word,
Wherever children are in love,
In every home it's heard,
And we who mourn our mother hold
That word of words inscribed in gold.

FURNITURE (Continued)

The G.P. went shopping the other day, and met Auntie Babs on her way. They parked down town in a one hour zone, then invited me for coffee, over the phone. Then because the G.P. 'zed she looked a mess, they both went shopping for a dress. And so they went in many a store, and giggled around till way after four. When again they had coffee and a bun, after "charging" and spending their housekeeping mon.

STAIR CARPET . . . in a solid beige color . . . 27" wide . . . to B sold all in one piece . . . 25 yds for $139. English Wilton. It's brand new, of course.

THEN they decided to get along home, but all over town they had to roam. Hunting near, and searching afar, they'd forgotten where—they'd parked the car. Then their giggles 2 a frown were sealed. Yep . . . there was the ticket, on the windshield.

Rocking chair . . . and it's a honey . . . has a high back, and rocks on a fixed platform, with double coil spring. Shown in solid green or floral wine or blue. $39.

"OH BOTHER," the G.P. sed, "well M . . . will just have to sell another bed." And so they drove, meek like a mouse, to the Fleazed St. . . . Station House. As they went down the hall, they giggled some more, and then they gently wrapped upon the door. Up went the window, and a nice man in blue "and what (smiling) my ladies—may I do for U?"

Here's a Chesterfield that will always do for U . . . practically covered in pretty salidloth (duck) and it's a big . . . luxury styled model . . . warehoused $215, can B spunged off if soiled.

SHE gave him the ticket, then fumbled around, the 2 and a half she finally found. "This nice policeman, who was standing there, sed "I 'spose U were having something done to your hair?" "No, I wasn't," the G.P. smiled back. "I just simply forgot that old hack. So I really deserve this. I was a goon, I left it parked all afternoon." "Now L-I-S-T-E-N . . . lady," the Sargeant sed, "wern't U having a tooth pulled outa your head?" "Certainly NOT . . . my molars are sound . . . No . . . with Auntie Babs here, we got foolin' around." "Well, O.K. then," the Sarge replied, trying his best a smile to hide.

TRILITE BARGAIN

HERE IS the best deal in a Trilite we have ever had . . . it POSITIVELY IS . . . it has a new type shade called "Plasti-Pleat" in green or rose, reflector, and a 3 candle Trilite stand, all for $17.50 (only have 12 tho).

THEN—as he closed his window that afternoon, "well—thanks very much . . . and come again . . . SOON!"

NUMBER BROTHERS furniture in the heaney warehouse down View—below Gov't.

TWIN MAPLE bedroom suite . . . in the modified Colonial manner . . . solid mellow maple . . . good and in the period style forever.

COUNTRY ESTATE

$30,000 — Architect designed and built by day labor in 1941. Simplicity, comfort and sturdiness with beauty are the outstanding features of this country home upon first sight. Further viewing reveals the detailed construction. A copper plate has been placed under every post where it rests on the concrete foundation, insuring freedom from dampness and rot. Copper piping starts at the hook-up on the main road and continues through the entire house. Complete insulation.

All wood used is hand-picked B.C. cedar. The exterior is cedar siding, the interior is entirely finished in cedar. The basement is on a ground level and contains a fruit storage room, office, furnace room with automatic coal stoker for hot-water heat, maid's quarters with bath.

On the first floor is a large entrance hall with two-piece washroom off, and small hall leading to dining-room and "farm kitchen". The living-room is a comfortable size with brick fireplace and "Cape Cod" oven. The hearth is of brick and slate stone. The dining-room is suitable in size for a family. Although the kitchen is as modern as any town house with its electrical conveniences, it will delight anyone who has a feeling of appreciation for the "Old farm Kitchen". From the entrance hall a broad stairway leads to three roomy bedrooms. All bedrooms have ample cupboards as well as a long row of cedar trays. There is one bathroom and separate toilet off the hall, another bathroom off the master bedroom, and a trunk room off the hall.

On the second floor is also a beautiful studio which can be reached from indoors or from the outside as one wishes. All rooms face the sea.

With the property are a farm-cottage, well constructed barn, workshop, root house, other out-buildings, and a three-car garage. Twenty-five acres of land with a thousand feet of sea frontage and vast views of the sea and mountains. All of this, just fourteen miles from the town.

The final feeling about this property is This is B.C. personified, with native materials used throughout the construction.

Saanich Council To Vote Soon On Airpark Rezoning

Arguments for and against the rezoning of property at Gordon Head for the establishment of an airpark there, were presented to the Saanich Council during a three-hour session Thursday night after which the council agreed to vote on the question in the near future.

Opposing the rezoning action was Ward Three Ratepayers' Association, main spokesman of which was H. W. Davey, K.C.

Speaking in support of the airport were William Lawson, district inspector of the Department of Transport; W. A. Scott, president of the Memorial Park Committee, and others.

The council chamber was crowded with all standing room taken by delegations from the two factions.

MORE TIME WANTED

Councillor J. Len Hobbs (Ward Three) endeavored to settle the question by proposing a motion that the rezoning be refused, but the majority of the councillors refused to give support to the motion, stating they wished to have more time to discuss the question.

Mr. Davey, speaking an hour and a half, claimed the finances of the proposed airpark did not seem to be in good condition. Its success was by no means guaranteed, he said, stating that the airpark project was not one in which any individual taxpayer would put his money.

"If the rezoning goes through and subsequently the airpark fails, it may well be used by other groups to establish a big commercial airport of untold nuisance to the community," he declared.

He said valuable business and homes might be lost if the project was allowed.

The flying, he continued, would be over thickly-populated areas of hospitals, schools, orphanages, old men's homes. Accidents would cause great damage to life and property.

SAFE FLYING ASSURED

Mr. Lawson answered technical questions on the proposed airpark and stated that every precaution would be taken to establish safe flying conditions should the airpark be allowed. The Canadian air regulations governing such an air field, he said, were "extremely stiff."

The inspector said he had never found, in his experience, any complaints for falling real estate values near airpark developments across Canada.

Mr. Scott pleaded for support of the airpark stressing benefits to youth which the project would give. He said: "He serves Canada best who serves his children best."

The world was divided, he said, into two groups . . . those who think of others and those who think only of themselves. It was the former group who were supporting the Gordon Head airpark.

A letter was read from Forrest L. Shaw, as chairman of the Rehabilitation Council, in which the council was urged to approve the airpark. If the airpark rezoning was not allowed, the opportunity for the establishment of a small-plane flying field here would be lost forever, he wrote.

Rex Harvey, first world war flier, opposed the airpark, stating aircraft would be flying low and would endanger the property in the area.

KERSEY IN FAVOR

Following presentation of the arguments several of the councillors spoke briefly with W. C. Kersey (Ward Six) pointing out that youth was not represented in the opposition forces.

He said the air age was here to stay and that he would vote in favor of the airpark.

"I remember in 1916 the people in this area did not want paved roads because they would be too hard on the horses," he said: "We got the paved roads and there are no complaints now. I think we'll find the same situation with the airpark."

Retail Clerks To Canvass City On All-Day Closing

Within the next 10 days retail clerks will canvass citizens to sign petitions in favor of the passage of the by-law which will provide for the closing of any section of the retail trade all day Wednesday.

The campaign for a full day holiday for store employees each week, was re-launched at a meeting of retail clerks held in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night.

George Wilkinson, secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, called upon the retail clerks to "go out and fight for all-day closing and inform the public of the truth of the matter."

Mr. Wilkinson charged that a small minority group calling itself the "Citizens Committee" had succeeded in having the referendum on the by-law turned down by citizens by misinforming the public about the all-day closing.

"They created a panic vote by distortion of truth in the discussion," he said. "They claimed that the by-law would mean that transportation would close down, that there would be no milk deliveries and that the tourist trade would be affected."

Mr. Wilkinson said it was a strange coincidence that the citizens group came to light just before the referendum was presented the public.

"They never said who they represented or named the citizens on the committee," said Mr. Wilkinson. "We know that they only represent a small group of men who are doing all in their power to fight the by-law."

SAYS MOST IN FAVOR

Ninety per cent of employers and 95 per cent of employees, including Mayor Percy George were in favor of the by-law, he said.

With regard to the effect all-day closing might have on the tourist trade, Mr. Wilkinson pointed out that the Seattle boat arrived at noon, thus making it impossible for tourists to shop on Wednesday.

Full support of the Trades and Labor Council to retail clerks in their efforts for a full holiday was promised by A. P. Rayment, president.

George Johnston, Vancouver chairman of the Continuation All-Day Closing Committee, said chief opponents of the by-law were large concerns which were fighting the issue only to maintain their national policy.

"They are owned by people who live outside the province and are not interested in the health and welfare of their employees," he stated. "Most stores operated by local people are in favor of the by-law."

T. Denny admitted that the all-day closing would have little effect on tourists arriving from Seattle, but he contended the passage of the by-law would affect his business in so far as mail and delivery of merchandise was concerned.

Norman L. Maynard, secretary of the Shoe Merchants Association, said shoe merchants were all in favor of Wednesday closing and would support the cause of the retail clerks.

Oppose Forcing Of Navy Guard To Join Commissionaires

Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion meeting Thursday night, expressed "unalterable opposition" to any moves designed to compel the naval security guard to join the Corps of Commissionaires in order to retain their employment.

The council also viewed with alarm the proposed reduction in the activities of the auxiliary air force and air cadet squadrons. The outbreak of the World War, a resolution of protest drafted, pointed out, had proven the value of supplemental training. Early training made the task of training airmen easier.

In regard to the naval guard, the Legion council was particularly against the security men being forced to join the commissionaires "particularly as that organization collects fees from the men under this form of compulsion, and also arranges contracts to supply their services at less than prevailing rates of pay in the area."

At the present time the 131-man security guard had has a 40-hour work week with an 80-cents-an-hour pay scale. The commissionaires have a 48-hour week, with a 60-cent-an hourly wage.

Granting of a charter to a new branch was approved. The council appointed representatives of several branches to attend a meeting of the Greater Victoria 24th of May Celebrations Association to find out in what form the Legion could aid in this year's celebrations.

Council's next meeting is March 20.

'Blue Chips' Give Averages Lift

NEW YORK (AP) — Recovery ruled in today's stock market with a few wide "blue chip" movers giving the averages a good lift.

While gains ranged from fractions to 2 points or so, with most departments participating, dealings were slow from the start. Top marks were shaded here and there near the close.

Canadian Pacific was down ⅛ but other Canadian issues were up fractions at midday. Dome Mines and Distillers Seagram each gained ¼ while Hiram Walker moved up ⅛.

Mining Gains In Narrow Range

TORONTO (CP) — Brisk trading in a handful of industrials and mining issues in an otherwise dull day resulted in losses for the former and gains for the latter within narrow range.

Heavy traders in industrials were Montreal Power, more than 3,500 shares for a gain and Massey Harris, about 2,700 shares for a gain.

Papers were firm from fractions to more than a point for B.C. Pulp. Western oils were moderately up. Utilities saw Brazilian, Montreal Power and Winnipeg Electric up fractions.

Golds were up selectively for Dome, Lake Shore, Macassa, O'Brien. Base metals held on gains for Smelters, Nickel and Sherritt.

Big Axe Wielded On Civil Employees Of Armed Services

OTTAWA (CP) — A hefty slashing of civilian personnel employed by the Defence Department and its three services is under way all across Canada, but servicemen will not be affected, it was learned today.

Recent layoffs in naval establishments in Nova Scotia were only part of a general picture which will affect national headquarters here as well as subordinate stations from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Defence Minister Claxton has assured high-ranking officers of the three services at headquarters, however, that the cuts will not affect men in the permanent forces.

"The government will honor its contracts," he is reported to have told a group of some 300 officers, adding a whimsical note: "Your jobs are a lot more secure than mine."

This does not mean, however, a reliable source said, that men in the regular forces may not find themselves called upon to move from one part of the country to another or from one job to another to fit into the general, reduced pattern.

The civilian layoffs stem from efforts to creat one civilian force out of the three which grew to heavy proportions during the war.

Final implications of the drive are not yet clear. Officials of the department are working day and night in an effort to slice the estimates which will be laid before Parliament for the next year.

Milk Producers Not Getting Enough

British Columbia milk producers, to earn a wage of $100 a month would have to sell their milk at 94.61 cents a pound butterfat. Today the average selling price is 73.24 cents.

This is a conclusion worked out from the report of Dean F. M. Clement, who recently concluded a survey on dairy farm incomes and the cost of producing butterfat in the coastal areas of B.C.

The study was based on the records of 233 dairy farms for 1945, and was made by the Department of agricultural economics of University of B.C.

The survey showed that 85 per cent of the butterfat from farms in the survey produced at costs lower than 75.18 per pound, not including wages to the operator.

The cost of producing butterfat varied very considerably, but the average cost was 58.79 cents, including all cash expenses, a charge for unpaid family labor, depreciation, and interest on invested capital but not including the operator's own labor.

The cost of producing butterfat on Vancouver Island averaged 9.14 cents per pound or 15.5 per cent higher than in the Fraser Valley.

$50,000 New Plant For Hobbs Glass Ltd.

Work has started on construction of a $50,000 plant for Hobbs Glass Ltd., on Fort Street, near Vancouver Street, it was announced by E. L. Keyes, manager of the firm. Excavation work on the site is already under way and the building permit will be issued Monday, he said.

The building will be of two-story construction, measuring 60 by 113 feet, and the firm expects to move into its new quarters by next fall from its present location on Broughton Street. The structure will be modernly equipped for the edging and handling of glass products.

George Wheaton is the contractor and Hugh C. Perram, architect.

Ben Hill-Tout's Print Judged Best Of Year

Victoria Camera Club held its monthly meeting in the Empress Hotel Thursday night with an exhibition of the best pictures of the past year. Mrs. Mary Tobin was the judge and the best print of the year was a portrait "Ponderin'," by Ben Hill-Tout.

Prize-winning prints in the monthly competition were as follows: Tie for first place—"Homeward Bound," by Vic Nunn and "Winter Bound," by J. K. Hodges; "Entreaty," by Mrs. Boas; "For Men of Distinction," by Irving Dawson, and "Sunset-Saanich Inlet," by Norman A. Yarrow.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

LOUDSPEAKERS

SO MUCH HAS BEEN said about the loudspeakers that have been installed in the Legislative chamber that I feel I should be remiss in my duty if I didn't make some reference to them here.

First and foremost, let me say that whatever else they do they don't add to the aesthetic appearance of the House.

Those tall, ugly posts stuck up on every second desk have a disheartening similarity to the stark, denuded stumps which stick up over the landscape after a forest fire—or poor logging operations.

And I have the urge to do something about it. So this is to warn those whom it may concern that, before the session is over, I may have tied posies of flowers to each of the "mikes" or decorated the stands with frills in an attempt to redeem their gaunt gangliness.

SPEAKER'S STAND

NOR DO I PARTICULARLY admire the gadget which stands besides the Speaker's chair and which, I understand, is the automatic control board.

Like other control boards that I know, it doesn't always seem to control, judging by some of the vocal effects produced.

And its winking lights awaken my housewifely instinct by reminding me of an electric stove. So much so that I always feel the urge to rush up and find out what's cookin'.

Aside from all that, however, I think we've got something in the loud speaker idea. Even if you do have to drape yourself over the mouthpiece in caressing fashion to achieve any appreciable effect.

And either clutch the bottom valve, or whatver it is called, or else prop a book against it to keep the contrivance working.

SONOROUS EFFECT

BUT, DESPITE THOSE—to me—defects, the loudspeaker system seems to have its advantages, and to have enhanced the acoustical properties of the chamber.

For instance, it has made it much easier to hear some of those speakers who, hitherto, gave one the impression that they were exchanging confidences with their vis-a-vis.

And wre relucant to speak above a whisper—after having given the speech to the press, so that the outside world usually knew all about it long before those of us in the House had discovered what the member was talking about.

Some of the inveterate gallery-ites who seldom miss a sitting have also expressed their approval of the innovation. And I notice fewer visitors cupping their ears in an effort to learn what is going on below.

DICTAPHONES NEXT

HOWEVER, I AM RATHER hoping that we are not going any further in our experimentation with verbal output.

By installing microphones, for instance, such as they have in the Saskatchewan House. There, every word uttered is picked up and recorded for posterity. Perhaps posterity will be more interested in it than some of today's citizens seem to be in parliamentary proceedings, but I have my doubts.

But whether posterity appreciates the opportunity to go back over old speeches or not, the dictaphone idea has one interesting aspect.

Instead of a member of the Opposition challenging a Government member—or vice versa—about what he did or didn't say some years ago, and arguing heatedly about it, all you will have to do is to dig up the old record and play it again.

There again, I could suggest an aesthetic improvement. Why not synchronize suitable music with the records? I should be glad to come forward with some appropriate numbers!

BID FOR BREVITY

BUT WHETHER WE EVER get to the dictaphone or broadcasting stage or not, there's one thing I wish we could do. And that is place some limit on the length of speeches, especially of the private members.

I recall that Winston Churchill, when Prime Minister, could make world-shaking pronouncements in 20 minutes.

But brevity seems to be a forgotten virtue. As an item I saw long ago in an American paper put it:

"The story of the creation of the world is told in Genesis in 400 words. The world's greatest moral code—the Ten Commandments—contains only 297 words. Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg address is but 266 words in length. The Declaration of Independence required 1,321 words to set up a new concept of freedom. The U.S. Office of Price Administration uses 2,500 words to announce a reduction in the price of cabbage seed."
